'CARPETBAGGER RULE'

Federal Referee Plan Attacked By Ala. Leader

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. MacDonald Gallion of Alabama said Friday if federal registrars are set up "American citizens will again chafe under the burdensome yoke of a modern "carpetbagger rule."

It would have no parellel outside the Iron Curtain countries, he said.

Gallion testified before the Senate Rules Committee in opposition to various bills designed to provide federal registrars to help Negroes vote in the South.

PREDICTION

Gallion predicted that if such legislation is passed and upheld by the courts "we would witness the shocking spectacle of federal boards of registrars in every county in the South."

He said that once in power, the boards would perpetuate themselves on the public payroll as federal super-employes usurping functions of public officials in the states.

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala) attacked, in his testimony, the plan advanced by Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers earlier this week as an alternative to the registrar system. Rogers suggested that federal courts be empowered to appoint referees who would pass on a Negro's qualifications to vote.

The Rogers plan, Sparkman protested, would go farther than reconstruction area election controls because it would be applicable to all general and primary elections, federal, state and local.

"In other words, we are to have the federal government running and controlling the elections of officers from the White House to the town hall," Sparkman said. "How foreign this is to what our founding fathers intended!"

Chairman Thomas Hennings (D-Mo) of the rules committee said Rogers probably would testify Feb. 5, the date set by

State Demo Leaders To Meet Today

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Louisiana Democratic leaders meet Saturday to practice the political harmony desired by Jimmie H. Davis, the next governor.

The 101-man Democratic State Central Committee, which governs party affairs, will convene at 11 a.m. in the House of Representatives.

Its purpose is to announce official returns of the Jan. 9 Democratic runoff and certify Davis and his winning ticket as Democratic nominees in the April 19 general election.

REFLECTS

The central committee traditionally reflects the wishes of an incoming governor.

While this is the start of a presidential year, the state party leaders are not expected to touch that business until later this year.

It is no secret, however, that several of the Davis camp lean toward Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) as the party choice for President.

Johnson hasn't visited Louisiana recently, but Sen. John F. Kennedy (D - Mass) and Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) have, seeking delegate possibilities.

Right now, the state committee is concentrating on state formalities. Things are expected to be smoothly operating Saturday, with no new ouster moves likely against National Democratic Committeeman Camille Gravel Jr., a controversial Louisiana figure.

Gravel was a top supporter of Mayor deLesseps Morrison of New Orleans, the man Davis defeated in the runoff for governor.

Unless the committee wills otherwise, Davis leaders said, no further action is expected against Gravel.

A former committee, during a coalition of forces under Gov. Earl K. Long and Sen. William M. Rainach, state segregation

Price Supports On Cotton Told

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department announced Friday that price supports for 1960-crop upland cotton grown in compliance with planting allotments will average 28.97 cents a pound for middling ⅞-inch cotton.

This compares with 30.4 cents last year.

The support rate for farmers electing, under a new program, to exceed their planting allotments by 40 per cent will be 23.18 cents a pound compared with 24.70 cents last year.

U.S. Hiking Estimate Of Red Power

Solon Declines To Give Details About Change

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Intelligence has boosted its estimates of Russian long range missile power since Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. told Congress specialists had down-graded probable Soviet superiority in this field, a Democratic Senator said Friday.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash) gave this word to newsmen after day-long secret testimony by Central Intelligence Agency Director Allen W. Dulles before the Senate Space Committee and Preparedness subcommittee.

Jackson, long a critic of administration defense policy, declined to give details on what he said was a new change in U.S. Intelligence evaluation during the past week. "I can't say exactly what it is," he said.

ROSY

However, the Senator declared that "some of the rosy color that Mr. Gates had in his presentation has been taken out."

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas agreed with Jackson that Dulles' report on Russian military rocketry was a grim one from the American standpoint.

"Everything I have heard today reinforces my conviction that we have got to go farther and faster," Johnson said to interviewers.

At an earlier break in Dulles' testimony, Johnson had said that what he had heard to that point

MacArthur Hospitalized In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who was 80 last Tuesday, was hospitalized for observation Friday, but the Army said there was no cause for alarm.

The exact nature of his illness was not disclosed, but an Army spokesman said an expert in urology examined the general Thursday at his suite in the Waldorf Towers and advised him to enter a hospital for a more thorough checkup.

MacArthur is expected to remain at Lenox Hill Hospital in Manhattan for several days. His wife, Jean, will be nearby in another room.

X-RAYS

Col. Gordon Barclay, 1st Army public information officer, said the results of X-rays and other tests probably will not be known for 24 hours and there will be no further statements until then.

The general celebrated his birthday at a party attended by nearly 100 old comrades-in-arms and friends as congratulatory messages poured in from many of the world's leaders. Vice President Richard M. Nixon dropped by earlier to pay his respects.

As he cut his birthday cake — which bore the red, white and blue colors of the flag MacArthur served through two world wars and the Korean fighting — his friends sang "Happy Birthday." Leaders of the three branches of the service gave the general mementos of his service.

SYLVA, N.C. (UPI)—Rep. David M. Hall (D-N.C.) died Friday of cancer which had its beginnings in a bone infection which left him confined to a wheelchair for almost 30 of his 42 years.

ABOUT WALKING

Young Men Plan To Prove Theory

LONDON (AP) — Two husky young men with a theory about walking will start a 1,175-mile hike Saturday, confident they will be proved right.

They propose to walk from London to Florence, Italy. Their theory is that long-distance walking should be done in jerks—six hours of hiking and two hours of rest.

The routine, they said, must be inflexible, a nice rhythm of two-and-six, two-and-six, until, 22 days later, the beautiful city looming up ahead is Florence. The aim is 50 miles a day.

The youths with the theory are an American, John L. Caulfield, 26, writer and drama student of Tuckahoe, N. Y., and Leonard Pegden, 28, electrical research engineer of Ashford, England.

They will start from Marble Arch, in London's West End, Saturday night. Day and night won't mean anything to them on their six-and-two schedule so they might as well start at night.

They will be attended by a vehicle, a small truck, which will be driven by a friend, Ian Webb, 25, a London salesman. Webb will haul extra shoes—canvas with rubberized sole—the food and foot bath.

Webb will drive on ahead, to an agreed spot on the map. He will set up a tent, prepare a meal, do the laundry, and wait for the hikers' arrival.

They will rest their two hours,

Probe Shows Drug Prices Are Variable

Investigators Get Testimony From Concerns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators developed testimony Friday that a big pharmaceutical house gets $39.50 for 1,000 tranquilizer tablets while a small manufacturer offers the same amount for $2.65.

Both prices are wholesale. The suggested retail prices mentioned at the hearing were $65.83 for the big firm's product and $4.41 for the small maker's brand.

However, it was brought out that there was a catch. The small manufacturer said he does 80 per cent of his business with government hospitals and institutions and thus is spared big advertising outlays. He said if he had to go in for expensive promotion campaigns he would have to raise his prices substantially.

RESEARCH

The big pharmaceutical house spent seven years in costly research, its president said, to get its product on the market. At one point it had to open up a new source of supply in Africa when its shipments of raw materials from India were suddenly shut off by the Indian government.

The drug is reserpine, an alkaloid extracted from the root of a tropical plant called rauwolfia.

It is used in the treatment of high blood pressure.

The big name manufacturer is Ciba Pharmaceutical Products, Inc. of Summit, N.J. and its tablets are called Serpasil.

The small manufacturing is Panray Corp. of Englewood, N.J. Its tablets are sold under the trade name of Serpanray.

Myron Pantzer, vice president of Panray Corp., testified before a Senate Antitrust subcommittee investigating the high price of tranquilizers that he has sold the tablets to the government for as little as 70 cents to $1.10 a thousand.

Subcommittee counsel P. Rand Dixon estimated Panray's brand could be retailed at $4.41 a thousand.

Pantzer testified his company specializes in drugs for the treatment and testing of tuberculosis.

"We feel we're doing a highly significant business and getting a highly gratifying personal return," he said.

Passman Bound For Far East Aid Inspection

WASHINGTON (Special) — Rep. Otto Passman (D) La., left Washington, Friday for a new 10-day inspection of foreign aid spending in the Far East.

Passman, chairman of the House Foreign Aid Appropriations subcommittee, said he was dissatisfied with available information on the foreign aid operation in the Far East, where the U.S. is spending more than $2 billion in mutual security funds annually.

Passman conducted a tour of the same region last fall, but said, "I am not satisfied with some of the answers given and information obtained" at that time.

The congressman stated he plans hearings soon on the new administration foreign aid requests, which amount to $4.2 billion. He described this request as "fantastically unrealistic."

Passman will travel about 20,000 miles, visiting Japan, Formosa and Hong Kong.

The bomb was made of an iron pipe about a half-inch in diameter and four or five inches long, filled with gunpowder and connected with wire and adhesive tape to a small battery and a watch.

Neo-Nazi Youth Party Discovered

KANSAS CITY Mo. (AP) — Investigation of a synagogue bombing disclosed Friday the existence of a neo-Nazi youth party in two Kansas City high schools.

Detectives estimated 40 to 80 boys at East and Southeast high schools had formed a Nordic Reich group. From various sources, officers said, the youths got Nazi uniforms, swastika armbands, medals and other accessories.

As widespread questioning of students progressed, two boys were held at the Jackson County Parental Home. Missouri's juvenile code prevented disclosure of their names because of their ages, 16 and 15.

PROBE

Joining the investigation, the Federal Bureau of Investigation sent a bomb expert from Washington to examine the damage caused at the Kehilath Israel Synagogut at Meyer Blvd. and Rockhill Road Thursday night. No one was hurt. Shattered windows and glass doors represented most of the physical damage.

Capers Butler, custodian who lived in the synagogue with his wife, told police he saw three teenage boys running through the temple parking lot moments after the blast.

Inquiries had not yet indicated, authorities said, whether the neo-Nazi youth group had any connections outside of Kansas City.

Authorities said that at the home of one student they found nine firecracker-sized charges of explosive was discharged in front of a door leading into a lounge at the synagogue where 51 windows were blown out.

Police and FBI agents recovered letters and various materials from lockers, homes and personal belongings of 12 youths most closely questioned.

Reaction To Be Told Late Today

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) —Shivering insurgent sentries paced along rain-soaked barricades in downtown Algiers Saturday while their leaders pondered the stern no-compromise words of President Charles De Gaulle.

Lights burned brightly through the night in the buildings where the European dissidents have made their headquarters. An insurgent spokesman said reaction to De Gaulle's command for a return to order would be disclosed late Saturday.

It was already clear that De Gaulle had by no means met demands of the insurrection leaders but it was still too early to tell what the coming days would bring.

SPEECH

De Gaulle, in his speech broadcast Friday night, did not budge on his policy of self-determination for Algeria and called for the army to restore order. His words were heard here during a torrential winter rain that drenched the city.

The French President said he had given directives to bring back order in Algeria. Shortly after his speech, the army command here ordered all territorials — home guards—to report to their unit headquarters. Most of those who man the barricades and guard insurgent headquarters here are territorials.

There was no immediate indication whether they would obey the army order. If they do, the position of the insurgents would be weakened.

$1.5-MILLION PROJECT

New Gas Plant Slated In Area

A gas processing plant costing approximately $1,500,000 will be constructed in the Calhoun Field, it was announced here yesterday.

Plans for the project were released in a statement by Southwest Gas Producing Company Inc., Monroe, and the Feazel interests of Shreveport, following a joint meeting.

Preliminary design work for the project has been completed and a contract for construction will be let soon, officials said.

DETAILS

The statement describing plans said:

"The new plant will be operated by Southwest Gas Producing Company, Inc., in connection with the larger gas processing plant located in Dubach, Louisiana, also owned by Southwest Gas Producing Company Inc., and the Feazel interests. Design calls for primary separation and gas stripping facilities which will recover valuable liquid hydrocarbons from gas produced in the Calhoun Field and surrounding areas.

"Liquid recovered from this plant will be transported by pipeline to the Dubach Plant where it will be fractionated into various petroleum products such as propane, iso butane, butane, high octane motor fuels, kerosene, and gas oils. Residue dry gas from the Calhoun operation will be delivered into cross country transmission lines, several of which converge in this area of Ouachita Parish. The plant will be designated to handle 50,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily and will incorporate such features as extremely low absorption temperature and glycol injection dehydration.

"This new plant will afford recovery of substantial quantities

Bandits Shoot Guards, Flee With Payroll

NEW YORK (AP)—Two bandits ambushed a pair of Brinks guards Friday outside a money-laden armored truck in Brooklyn, shot them both down and fled with a $23,900 cash payroll.

The guards, Leo Dolan, 57, of Dumont, N.J., and William Feeney 56, of New York, risked their lives to try to save the payroll in defiance of the bandits warning. Dolan was shot in the neck and Feeney in the shoulder. Both were reported in fair condition in a Brooklyn hospital.

DRIVER

The driver of the armored car sat through the whole fray a short distance away without even knowing there was a stickup going on. He was in his truck waiting for the guards to return when police arrived.

The robbery occurred about 7 a.m. at the American Can Co. in Brooklyn. The armored car rolled up and parked in the driveway of a one-story garage that adjoins the plant.

Doolan and Feeney got out of the armored car with the payroll. They carried it about 100 feet into the garage, leaving the driver at the wheel.

Inside, the bandits were waiting. Apparently they had sneaked in earlier and hidden behind a

22 BILLION ANNUALLY

Organized Crime Is Milking Public

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The "lawless legion" of organized crime is milking the public for an "astounding" 22 billion dollars a year, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover reported Friday.

He said the cure is "natjonwide law enforcement, with each agency — local, state and federal —forming a united cooperative front against professional criminals."

Hoover reiterated, however, his belief that the federal government should not dominate the drive against racketeering because "nothing could be more harmful to the tradition of American law enforcement."

The veteran FBI chief's latest crime report, carried in the FBI law enforcement bulletin, said there is a powerful band of extortionists, strong - arm hoodlums and racketteering specialists "whose greed reaches into every community of our land."

"The lawless legion infiltrates through every loophole," he said, "its booty flowing into underworld coffers whether it be nickels and dimes from a juke box in a bar in the smallest town or from a multi - million dollar stranglehold on large metropolitan centers obtained through the domination of a few dishonest labor officials."

Hoover said criminals accomplish their ends "by exploiting weaknesses throughout our society whether they be city ordinances, county codes, state statutes or federal laws."

Gamble To Save Leg Ends With Amputation Set

HAYWARD, Calif., (UPI) — Billy L. Smith, whose right leg was sewn back on last July in what was termed an unprecedented, near-miracle of surgery, has lost the long gamble to save it.

Doctors announced Friday that because of complications they will have to amputate soon.

Smith, 25, has been in Eden Hospital here since the operation.

Smith came within a few shreds of skin and flesh of losing the leg entirely when a heavy steel hook from a traveling crane smashed against it while he was repairing a furnace in a foundry.

SCISSORS

Under ordinary circumstances," one of his three doctors said, "the leg would have been amputated immediately with two snips of the scissors."

He was disappointed at the outcome but took the news calmly. Eventually he will be fitted with an artificial leg.

"I hate to lose all these months," he said, "but you have to look at it this way. The doctors did everything they could. Now they feel it should come off. I figure you have to go along with what they say.

"From all I hear about artificial legs they can make now, a person who has enough will-power can do just about anything he wants with one."

Before the accident Smith was an avid swimmer, bowler, golfer and softball player.

"A person never knows how much he can stand," he said, "until he's put to the test."

leader, voted to remove Gravel from the national post.

Gravel, a Catholic, was accused of having views on segregation considered out of step with majority thinking in this state.

At that time, national chairman Paul Butler and the national committee refused to unseat Gravel. His term, and that of the national committeewoman, Mrs. Earl K. Long, expires just after the national convention in Los Angeles next July.

After the April election, another session will be held and then the next national committeeman and committeewoman are likely to be selected.

Gravel, commenting on the meeting Saturday, said he hasn't heard of anything controversial in the wind.

Two other key members, John S. Garrett, Haynesville, Rainach lieutenant, and Ben Holt, Alexandria, who insists he will go after Gravel's scalp at the proper time, said they know of no action this time against Gravel.

The central committee is expected to retain the temporary officers selected with support of the Davis crowd at a previous organizational meeting.

They are Dist. Atty. Charles A. Riddle Jr., Marksville, chairman; Arthur C. Watson, Natchitoches, vice chairman; Jesse Webb Sr., Baton Rouge, secretary; Scallan Walsh, Baton Rouge, assistant secretary and treasurer.

There are strong hints that Richard Davis, Alexandria, $50-a-month sergeant at arms, will be replaced by Sheriff Eddie St. Marie of Lafourche Parish.

No reason has been mentioned. However, Richard Davis, no relation to Jimmie Davis, drew the distavor of Mrs. Long last summer while he was the tempestuous governor's aide and chauffeur.

A factor to watch in the Saturday meeting is what the 14 or so New Orleans members, representing Mayor Morrison, will do.

Indications are the Morrison group will do whatever is necessary to support the position of Davis in the committee, now that he is the party nominee.

Davis informants report they want to avoid any strife before the April election.

Sen. Lister Hill (D-Ala) said in a statement for the committee that he strongly opposed both the proposal for registrars and the one for referees. In both, he said, the principle remains the same—"and invasion of the sovereingty of the states."

The Civil Rights Commission set up under 1957 legislation came under the fire of Gallion.

He charged that the commission has acted without good faith and in a high-handed, arrogant manner in every instance it has functioned in Alabama.

"It has ignored the sovereignty of the state in a shameful manner. Now it is trying to make a power grab and to make its effects permanent," he said.

Thomas E. Harris, spokesman for the AFL-CIO, said measures proposed do not go far enough and are not broad enough.

"All of the bills fall far short of providing full protection for the rights to vote guaranteed in the United States Constitution," Harris said.

Reaction To Be Told Late Today

Gaulle's declaration was varied. Some insurgents showed defiance. Some army officers and troops appeared strongly and favorably impressed.

Many army officers and paratroopers ringing the barricades stood smartly at attention as De Gaulle's voice boomed over loudspeakers. They looked stolid and impassive. Little showed in their faces. But several officers said this was the speech the army was waiting for—the speech of a strong commander.

Insurgents on their barricades listened tensely as De Gaulle declared he had decided his Algeria policy and would not back down.

Their faces grew grim as he ended without giving the promise they all sought — that Algeria would definitely stay French.

A few minutes after the President had finished speaking, an insurgent leader addressed a crowd of several thousand huddled under umbrellas before the barricades in defiance of the army's curfew order.

"You have just heard the chief of state," the speaker shouted.

The crowd burst into loud booing.

"Do you have confidence in your own leaders?" the insurgent asked.

"The crowd yelled "Yes! Yes!"

"We'll see about the rest tomorrow morning," the speaker said, then withdrew into the bank building which serves as rebel headquarters.

What the troops will do next is the big question. For six days they have watched the uprising passively. They have not fired a shot.

Some army officers, in commenting on De Gaulle's speech, said they are ready as soldiers to execute orders in the national interest provided these orders are not inhuman.

One was struck by De Gaulle's phrase that there were many ways of establishing full order. He took that to mean that De Gaulle does not necessarily intend to use force.

There was no immediate reaction from the casbah, where Moslems are held under curfew during hours of darkness.

Hours before he went on the air, an insurgent leader commented that "Gen. De Gaulle is not accustomed to changing his plans."

But the President's announcement that he has given the French army a direct command to restore order in Algeria was a blow to the hopes of Joseph Ortiz and other rightist chieftains. Speaking of the clash between insurgents and security police Sunday in which 26 persons died, De Gaulle said: "They have fired on the security forces and killed good soldiers."

He called the insurgents guilty men who dream of being usurpers.

The insurgents had gained one objective Friday, uncontested mastery of Algiers. But storm clouds—perhaps prophetic— scudded overhead, and winter rain drenched the city before nightfall.

The Moslem rebel leadership, purusing its five-year fight for independence from France, sought to capitalize on the French family quarrel with a bid for the loyalties of all Algeria's nine million Moslems, Arabs and Berbers of the Islamic faith.

Moslems serving in the 500,000-man French army were urged in a Radio Tunis broadcast by the rebel government-in-exile to desert and enlist in the nationalist guerrilla forces. Any conscience-stricken French soldiers, it said, also will be received "like brothers."

Moslem civilians, whose support is sought by both De Gaulle and the insurgent Frenchmen, were urged to stay on the sidelines for the present.

Nationalist rebel army units were instructed to remain vigilant "in case there is need to protect the civil population of Algiers (which includes 150,000 Arabs and Berbers), or in case there is an attack by the insurgents."

The rebel government wants to promote a special session of the U. N. General Assembly in New York to take up the question of Algerian independence. A spokesman announced this at a meeting of the African People's Congress in Tunis.

makes it clear Russia will have an enormous advantage in missile striking power in the near future.

While the CIA chief was behind closed doors with the Senate groups, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois rose on the Senate floor and slapped back at Democratic critics of President Eisenhower's military program.

Dirksen gibed at Democratic Presidential hopefuls — most of them in the Senate—for "nibbling, sniping and disparaging the defense efforts of this administration."

The Democratic attacks have increased since Gates, in a series of session-opening reports to House and Senate committees, said there is no over-all gap in U.S. power to deter a Russian attack.

He cited new intelligence evaluations to back this up, and in the past few days has said the Russians may have only a moderate missile edge at times in the next three years.

After Friday's session, Senators praised Dulles as candid in his report on Russian strength. Jackson said "our intelligence is getting more reliable."

"There is no radical change from the over-all intelligence estimates of a year ago which would warrant letting up in our efforts for a stepped up ICBM program," Jackson said.

The theme of Dirksen's Senate speech was that Eisenhower, as a professional soldier for most of his life, is better qualified to decide on military matters than are Democrats in Congress.

His companion told the guards: "Don't pull your guns or I'll kill you."

Ignoring the warnings, the two guards went for their guns as they whirled to face the bandits. The gunmen cut them down in a burst of gunfire, seized the money sack containing the payroll and fled.

FOG BOGS CEREMONY

FAIRMONT, Minn. (AP) — Everyone cooperated except the weather for the inauguration of airline service to Fairmont.

The mayor, a band and a good turnout of townspeople were on hand for the inaugural landing by North Central Airlines. The band played and the mayor cut a ceremonial ribbon as an unseen plane droned past overhead.

The airport was covered with a soupy fog and the airliner had to pass it by.

DRIVEWAY, CURBING

Detention Home Work Proposed

An asphalt driveway, with gutter and curbing, was proposed for the Ouachita Parish Green Oaks Detention Home yesterday, to utilize surplus money left over in the home's building fund.

The proposal, made at the 4 p.m. meeting of the Detention Home's eight-man operating committee, will be presented to the Police Jury at its Feb. 10 meeting.

L. B. Pettit, Ward 9 juror and committee member, presented plans and specifications drawn up by the city engineering department.

Approximately 400 linear feet of driveway is needed, he pointed out, to replace the gravel and "mud hole" driveway now plaguing the Home.

TAX MONEY

Tax money obtained by a 1-3 mill building tax which ended last year may be used only for construction at the home—or the driveway.

"If we have enough money left after putting in the driveway, I'll recommend that we build a metal shed for cars back of the home," Pettit added.

Bids will be called for, to be opened at the March jury meeting, if the plan is approved by the jurors. Landscaping will be the next step at the home.

Buster Crowley, parish juvenile officer, reported that 355 youngsters stayed at least one day at the home during 1959, an increase over the previous year.

He said that this January has been one of the "heaviest months we've ever had. One day, fifteen youngsters were at the home."

Monroe Judge W. M. Harper submitted a report-sheet form, for use by the home personnel to advise the parish and city judges of the names of youngsters detained at the home each day. The method was approved, and goes into operation Feb. 1.

DAILY REPORT

"We need a daily report to the judges from Mr. Smith (the home superintendent) to guard against any unusual delay of children deposited out there," Harper stressed.

The committee was quick to point out that processing of youngsters — contacting their parents, conducting a social investigation, bringing the children before a judge — is expedited.

"It usually takes three or four days for the investigation, before the child comes before the Judge. Sometimes he is out of the home in one day. The longest we had a youngster there was 12 days. He was a runaway and we had to wait for red tape to be cleared so we could get federal aid to send him home," Crowley explained.

M. W. Montgomery, Police Jury president and Chairman of the Committee, presided, with Harper, Crowley, Judge Jesse Heard, Judge Jasper Jones, Pettit and Juror Ollie C. Carter of Ward five attending.

Harper proposed that the Police Jury modify the bylaws of the Operating Committee's constitution, concerning meeting dates.

At present, the two-month-old committee is required to meet once every 30 days. Harper suggested this be cut to quarterly meetings, with other call meetings for urgent matters.

The committee approved the financial statement for January, which showed expenditures of $1,045.67 of the Home's $25,000 budget.

Since no place was provided in the budget for an operating fund for office supplies, cleaning chemicals and clothing, the committee approved such a category.

Shotgun Mishap Seriously Hurts W. Monroe Man

A West Monroe man, James P. Gibson, 24, was seriously wounded late Thursday when a shotgun accidentally discharged and hit him in the back.

Ouachita Sheriff Bailey Grant said his department was investigating the accidental shooting, which took place as two brothers were preparing to go hunting.

Relatives at the E. A. Conway Memorial hospital last night said the victim was improving.

The person reported to have done the shooting was Gibson's half brother, Charles "Butch" Aulds.

The mother told officers of the Sheriff's department that Gibson had a 12 gauge shotgun and was preparing to go into the woods when the shooting occurred.

Harry Oliver Legend

"I think that time will prove that what was the end of a life was the beginning of a legend."

Those words were sent by a friend to the family of R. Harry Oliver, Jr., prominent veteran Monroe attorney, following his recent death. They help to sum up the luminous spirit and many praiseworthy deeds of one of Monroe's citizens of honor who has passed on to the greater rewards that await him. His memory will become a legend.

Mr. Oliver was characterized by warm friendliness, a brilliant mind, a keen and sympathetic sense of humor, a love for his family, friends and those in need, an extraordinary love for children and an understanding of them, his keen wit, his charm and his happy faculty for making people like him. He was recognized for his great hospitality.

He was known throughout the state of Louisiana at every stop and restaurant, for those who saw him were always attracted to him, admired him and remembered him.

Extremely fond of vegetable gardening, he delighted in surprising his friends with choice produce, and this extended to his Negro friends. He had as many colored friends as white and often took gifts to those living on farms.

His happy nature enabled him to spread joy wherever he went and he was always able to dominate and delight every gathering by his friendliness, brilliancy and charm.

Mr. Oliver liked history and poetry and his keen and retentive mind was demonstrated in his ability to remember and recite both verse and history at great length.

In 1956 Mr. Oliver was one of four outstanding Monroe men who were honored on their 50th graduation anniversaries. Others so honored at that time were the late Dr. J. Q. Graves, M. Carey Thompson, Sr., and retired Federal Judge Ben C. Dawkins, Sr.

Mr. Oliver, senior partner of Oliver, Digby and Fudickar, was the oldest practicing attorney in the city of Monroe.

A native of Grand Cane, La., he was born April 9, 1885, the son of the late Reuben H. Oliver and Pearl Peyton Oliver. The family moved to Monroe in 1897.

A graduate of Neville High School, Mr. Oliver was the only male member of the first class over which the late E. L. Neville, former principal and superintendent in the city school system, presided. He was graduated from the old city high school in 1902 and graduated with a B. A. degree from Tulane University in 1906, following which he studied law.

Mr. Oliver's brilliance and retentive memory stood him in good stead in his law practice and he was particularly regarded as an expert in land and title matters.

Death has carried Mr. Oliver from among us, but his charm, friendliness, brilliance and vital spirit have built a legend that will indeed carry on.

'Independence' Cry

The cry for "independence" in Algeria grows louder with each day as left-wing forces seek to compel President Charles de Gaulle to "liberate" the Africans and let Algeria emerge as a new national state, free of French influence.

Often, the Algerian situation has been likened to the American struggle for independence. And, unfortunately, it is usually likened in the wrong way.

Many of the forces seeking to overthrow the French in Algeria say that the Arabs are like the American colonists. They say that we, as peoples who have thrown off the imperialist yoke of oppression, should support the insurrection in Algeria. They believe mistakenly that the colonists and the Algerians are "cousins."

Nothing, however, could be further from the truth. There is a similarity in the two causes, but it is in the reverse. The French are just in their desire to retain Algeria as French.

The French went into North Africa and drove out a band of cutthroats - - the Barbary Pirates - - and set up a civilized, law-and-order system there for the mutual benefit of all. The Bey of Tunis made it an economic practice to raid sea-going vessels in the Mediterranean and hold the passengers for ransom or sell them as slaves in the African markets. The cargo, of course, was lost forever.

The French did away with this wanton banditry and made the sea lanes safe. Colonists settled the land - - previously barren wastes — and made it arid and fertile. The North African coast is now one of the most productive in the world and lends much to a formerly sagging French economy. For the French to give up North Africa would be like the United States giving up Hawaii.

And the colonists there settled the land, made it liveable and productive and have based their lives on that land. This is the way the crisis there resembles the struggle of the colonists in 1776. Our people, like the French, settled the land and made it fit to live in and now they or being asked to give all the fruits of their labors away. Would you give a parcel of land that you had slaved on for years away just because some other person decided that it belonged to them?

Indeed, the French government has allowed more tresspasses against their rights now than it should have. The left-wingers should be ignored and France should hold tightly to that which rightfully belongs to it.

'Respcetable' Criminals

"Shocking" crimes occur so frequently that they usually gain only passing attention and are forgotten in a few days. When the people who commit these crimes are highly respected and honored, hold substantial positions and are regarded as being among the best citizens, the situation changes. Then we are truly shocked, not so much by the crime as by the unexplainable action of its perpetrator.

Even crimes of this kind occur all too often. Newspapers recently have carried many stories on three such cases, all of them involving presumably high-class people. These cases make us wonder who is immune to crime if those accused are not. The three cases include those of:

Dr. George H. Mickey, Louisiana State University dean, charged with murder in the slaying of Dr. Margaret McMillan, a fellow professor at the university.

Dr. R. Bernard Finch, accused of killing his wife in Los Angeles, Calif.

Placing of charges against anyone does not mean that he is guilty but the shock is there just the same when the charges are made.

The fates of the eminent college professor and the doctor may be sealed permanently but for the football players the involvement means black pages in their lives.

These players apparently are all from good families and their hopes were high for establishing worthy places for themselves in life. They may still be able to do so but if they had kept their records unblemished their chances would have been greater.

Castro Beckons Negroes

Counts On Support From Joe Louis To Encourage Colored Tourism From United States To Cuba

Ladies' Handbags

Fidel Castro may believe that the great economist, Joe Louis, will solve the problem of his receding economy, but he has, apparently, not figured on the ladies. Joe Louis is trying to encourage tourism from the United States to Cuba. For some reason, the former fighter believes that American Negroes will populate the now empty Havana hotels and Castro has been encouraged to believe that Joe can do it, bringing American dollars into the Cuban economy.

But now along comes the National Authority for the Ladies' Handbag Industry and demands that the government terminate the 20 per cent "preferential treatment afforded Cuba on imports of reptile handbags."

Few of us knew that Cuba was getting a subsidy on reptile handbags from the American taxpayer. We knew that Cuba was getting a subsidy of two cents a pound on sugar but not on reptiles. Why do women need reptile handbags, anyhow?

The queer thing about this reptile business is that it goes back to 1902 and cannot be blamed on the Franklin Roosevelt administration. Heretofore, everything evil has been blamed on F.D.R. As a matter of fact, this must have been done by Mark Hanna and Theodore Roosevelt, but what interest could they have had in Cuban reptiles? Under the 1902 Commercial Convention, Cuba received a minimum 20 per cent advantage on all Cuban products sold to the United States which were not on the free list. It was a reciprocal arrangement. This was confirmed by the 1934 bilateral ade agreement for which Cordell Hull was responsible, and has been included in the GATT Agreements.

Let us use an ugly word, boycott. Cuba can be hit by the United States in the economic solar plexus because there is no better market for reptile handbags than this country. The ten best dressed women do not go about sporting reptile handbags. Let those women who need handbags use cowhide or goat-skin or some other American-style leather. As a matter of fact, some of the reptile handbags look repulsive.

Castro is trying another trick. The Handbag Authority provides this letter:

"In reply to your letter of December 23, relative to our indebtedness, please be advised that we have applied to the National Bank of Cuba to authorize payment some time ago. There is nothing that we or anyone can do until said authorization is given to our bank at which time a check will be issued covering the account.

"In retrospect, we have been doing business with this and many handbag concerns over the last fifteen years and are accustomed to pay our bills promptly. Nevertheless all we can do at this time is await the green light from the higher authorities."

In other words, when Cuban firms import goods, Castro prevents them from paying for the imports. The answer to that is boycott. We do not need to do business with Cuba at all, any kind of business. There is no reason why we should use Cuban sugar, Cuban tobacco, Cuban reptile handbags or anything else that is Cuban. If Castro can sell the entire product of Cuba to Soviet Russia, let him do so. If that is his solution to his problem, let him try it.

The United States needs to take a stand against every speck of a country spitting in our face. It should have been done when Vice President Nixon took his spectacular trip to Latin America and was abused as no American representative to any foreign area has ever been abused before in our history. We should then have taught those countries that this is a proud nation and requires orderly and dignified conduct on the part of its neighbors. They may have grievances against us, but such grievances must be handled by diplomatic means not by accelerated mass demonstrations.

When countries do not know how to behave decently, they should be taught. Castro's Cuba has become an international nuisance and as it affects the United States more than any other country, the United States should act and the first act should be a boycott of all Cuban goods brought into the United States. Already, the tourist traffic has practically stopped and Joe Louis will not revive it. Next in line is sugar. Then tobacco. Then everything, including these reptile handbags. Let Castro solve that problem, if he can.

Representation

House Must Have 438 Members Or Some States Will Lose

Rep. Basil Whitener of North Carolina was one of the first members of Congress who voted for Hawaiian statehood to realize that he may have voted himself right out of his $22,500-a-year job.

This may have had something to do with prompting him to introduce legislation to boost the permanent membership of the House of Representatives from 435 to 438 members.

This is not to say that Whitener's legislation is prompted by purely selfish reasons — it isn't. He merely feels, as do many of his colleagues, that no state should suffer a loss of representation in Congress because of the admission to the union of another state.

Yet this is exactly what will happen after this year's census is taken unless Congress takes some action.

The present membership of the House is temporarily set at 437 as a result of the admission to statehood of Alaska and Hawaii. Since the U.S. Constitution requires that each state have at least one seat in the House, the statehood legislation had to provide for a temporary increase to take care of the 49th and 50th states.

However, under permanent legislation putting a ceiling on House membership of 435, after the 1960 census 50 states will have to cut up 435 seats.

On the basis of preliminary estimates Hawaii will be entitled to two seats and Alaska one on the basis of the new census. Unless the membership of the House is increased, three states will lose an extra seat to make way for the representatives of the two newest states.

Whitener and his growing legion of supporters point out that no state in the history of the nation has ever been "punished" by the admission of a new state. As each new state was added in the past, the membership of the House was permanently increased to take care of the new state.

It was not until after the 48th state — Arizona — was admitted to the Union that the permanent ceiling of 435 members was placed on the House to prevent it from becoming too unwieldy to conduct any business. At that time, of course, few persons had the vision to forsee the admission of Alaska and Hawaii.

Whitener points out that under the reapportionment made necessary by the 1910 census, 433 seats were allocated for the House. However, the law made provision in advance for one seat for New Mexico and one for Arizona, even though these states were not admitted until 1912.

The move to increase the membership of the House is running into some invisible but most powerful opposition, however. Whitener's bill, and several just like it, are gathering dust in the House Judiciary Committee and Chairman Emmanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) has indicated he is definitely not in any hurry to schedule hearings on it.

Likewise, it is reported that House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas and House Majority Leader John McCormack of Massachusetts have quietly let it be known that no action is contemplated this session.

Oddly enough, according to preliminary census estimates, Celler's state of New York stands to lose three seats in the 88th Congress as a result of the next reapportionment. McCormack's Massachusetts might lose two.

Whitener's state of North Carolina is on the borderline. On the basis of an apportionment of 435 seats, the state might lose a seat. If 438 were apportioned, the seat might be saved.

Whitener has the unqualified support of the delegations of the 13 states scheduled to lose seats as a result of the next reapportionment. Interest is also being expressed by other states failing to keep pace with the national growth. But, with the leadership against him, Whitener is not too optimistic. Puzzled would be the word.

"I voted for Hawaii because I thought it had as much qualification to be a state as Alaska," he recalls. "But I never thought three of the members casting their votes on the issue might have to retire involuntarily because of the new states."

As it is on most issues in Congress, sentiment is pretty well divided between the "haves" and "havenots." The states who have seen their power in the House dwindle with each new reapportionment are in favor of expanding the membership.

Many Not Happy

Anxiety And Discontent Seethe Under Outward Calmness

As everybody is aware there are legions of unhappy people in the world. I do not refer to areas like India and China where many people are actually dying fo starvation.

I'm referring to your next door neighbor; or to the stranger who sits next to you at the movies; or to the apparently well-integrated friends who works in your office.

Beneath their outward appearances of happiness and contentment there often seethes daily discontent and anxiety.

Often I remind nervous and unhappy people that they have lots of company. I am not sure it makes them feel any better, but it's reassuring to know that you alone have not been chosen — from an entire community — to bear illness, anxiety and discomfort.

Here, for example, is a letter from Mrs. S., of Miami, Florida:

"Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I sincerely hope you can help me with a problem I've had since I was 23. I am now 40, and although I do have some good days when I feel relaxed and happy, I have more bad days than I feel a person should have.

"First of all, I am very shy, although I enjoy the company of intelligent people. Guess I'm a little bit of an introvert and have to feel that I am really liked before I can warm up to a person. Yet, when people get to know me, they like me.

"Nevertheless, I always have the feeling of being alone. This causes me to remain by myself most of the time — although I long to go out and meet people.

"If I walk a block from my home I become very nervous; and the farther I go the more I tremble with fear! This horrible feeling has even kept me from joining a church; which I long to do.

"I'll go just as long as someone is with me, but alone — just stay home. I feel so abnormal. Is there any way this problem can be solved? Your help will be gratefully appreciated."

COMMENT: You need a lot of listening to, and a lot of talking to. I haven't enough space for that here. But, I have seen hundreds with problems similar to yours, and most have improved under expert guidance.

Find yourself a good, patient, family doctor whom you can talk to. And, as a good backstop, I'd also suggest that you consult the minister of your faith. You may not notice improvement overnight — but improve you will if you have the will.

Many readers will recall a recent column in which I recommended that people chop a few years off their calendar age without feeling conscience-stricken. Here is one reaction to that column from Mrs. B. B. of Kalamazoo, Michigan.

"Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I read your recent column and noticed that you didn't think it a sin to lie about one's age. It intrigued me. More power to you.

"After all, one's age is a very personal matter. When you lie about the number of your birthdays it doesn't hurt anyone — unless the truth is needed for official reasons.

"I think that if you lie about your age it keeps you young. It acts as a sort of brake on growing old. If you watch the calendar constantly your age will keep right along with it.

Of course, to stay young, you must continue an interest in what's going on in this wonderful country of ours, appreciate the struggle that's going on to make life more beautiful.

"I for one, love it and have forgotten how old I am. Keep up your wonderful work, Dr. Steincrohn."

For Mrs. A., of Waco, Texas: There are all kinds of hypochondriacs. Let me show you how to be a happy one. Write to me c-o this paper for my leaflet, S-7, "How To Be A Happy Hypochondriac." Enclose 10 cents in a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HOLMES ALEXANDER

Nixon Foe Needed

Battling With Rockefeller Might Have Benefitted Him

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Time, with its unique way of retribution, seems to have opened the 1960's by threatening the Republican party with an old Democratic bogey — the Indispensable Man.

It is possibly a compliment to Richard Nixon, as it was to Franklin Roosevelt, that he, and he alone, seems destined for the party nomination. Just 20 years ago, in 1940, Roosevelt permitted the Democratic convention to prove the myth of his irreplaceability. Other Democrats, James Farley and John Garner, made themselves available. Thousands of Democratic loyalists in the ranks disliked the third term, the leftism, the war - joining of FDR, but all were powerless to halt the momentum of monolithism — of oneness.

The situation between Nixon and his party is similar, though by no means identical, with the one described above. The vice president is clearly the best-positioned, best - prepared Republican to succeed President Eisenhower. It is probable that nobody, by fighting Nixon in the primaries or in a cross - country barnstorm for support, could beat him at the GOP convention. Like FDR, after eight years in the White House, Nixon, with eight years including four nationwide campaigns, has got the party title sewed up in an inside pocket. Like Roosevelt before him, Nixon must affect to give the "green light" to a half - dozen aspirants for the vice presidential nomination. But in chill reality, Nixon cannot allow the convention to name him a running - mate who might give the slighest appearance of being bigger than, independent of, or politically deviating from, the presidenital nominee.

Now, this is a bad box for any political party. In 1940 the Democrats were electing, and many of them knew it, a president from whom only death would ever part them. Despite railings by Mr. Truman and other Democrats against the 22nd amendment, this was not a Republican act of vengeance. How could it be, having been carried out by two-thirds of congress and three - fourths of the states? The nation, deeply shaken at the prospect of lifetime rulers, bolted the door against them — acknowledging the initial mistake of accepting indispensability in any man, in any crisis, in any circumstances.

Well, the Republican party leaders who discuss such affairs are locked in a box with this monster of a situation. They like Nixon. It is the idea of choicelessness that disturbs them and, I am told, disturbs the vice president who was hoping to slug it out with Governor Rockefeller. To make it worse, 1960 is the centennial of Lincoln's nomination and victory — and no amount of stage scenery is going to make the two years seem alike. Lincoln became the Republican nominee because in the Lincoln-Douglas debates he had spoken with such simplicity, such lucidity as to catch national attention, win popular affection, and stir public thinking to accept his high idealism toward the Union and the slavery issues. "Only events can make a president," said Lincoln. In that time it proved true, but now?

Perhaps these questions should not be raised by someone who does not bring the answers in his hands. But Richard Nixon is mortal, he is vulnerable to many-sided assault, he has somehow immunized himself from the sweep of events, right up to the dates and the doors of the convention, which ought to determine who gets the Republican nomination.

Will no Republican now oppose him? One GOP leader, looking ruefully at the low percentages of "other" Republican candidates wonders who would have the temerity. Another leader, looking at the calendar, says that every day makes the likelihood of competition seem less.

Ironically, the nobody - but-Nixon predicament is toughest of all upon Nixon himself. He could lick anybody in the house — but none will fight him.

Daily Devotional

And it came to pass when the minstrel played, that the hand of the Lord came upon him. — II Kings 3:15.

God can use all things in His work and glory. Many sinners have been brought to Christ by music and singing. It is quite probable that good church music is as important as preaching. Can it be, that in some of our churches, we have lost sight of the real function of music? Are we placing all the emphasis on technique and skill rather than upon Christ and His saving grace? Or the love of God for man, and man's love for his wayward fellows? God forbid that we forget the purpose of all religious services!

Gracious Father, help us to worship Thee in the beauty of holiness by words, prayers and meaningful music. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

STOLEN LAST January from Sikes, Sonny, the travelling dog, returned home to his owner, Mrs. D. W. Harper, 1314 Nat St., West Monroe yesterday. She dreamed that he came back, and within a few hours he ran up to her outside the house. (Staff photo by John Fogleman)

AFTER LONG ABSENCE

Travelling Dog Returns To Home

By MARY ANNE CORPIN
Staff Writer

"I always told my husband, "Sonny will come back if he ever gets the chance," said Mrs. D. W. Harper.

Sonny came back — it took him a year, and at least 50 miles of travelling, maybe more—but he's not talking.

The two-year-old, white cocker-eskimo spitz dog trotted up to Mrs. Harper outside her neat white home at 1314 Nat St., West Monroe, yesterday morning.

It was a year this month that he disappeared, near Sikes, a small community in the Winn parish timber-covered hills.

Sonny's fondness for chasing cats led Harper to try to train him as a squirrel dog. A rattlesnake bit the pup on his first hunt, and he was woods-shy afterwards.

LEFT HIM

"We left him with my sister-in-law, Mrs. W. D. Rippey, near Sikes," explained Mrs. Harper, who had raised Sonny on a bottle after his mother died.

"I cried and cried when I left him. But we thought if he got used to being out in the country, he would lose his fear of the woods," she recalled.

That was in late November, 1958. January of 1959 came, Mrs. Harper wrote for the dog, and Mrs. Rippey told her the bad news.

"She said everybody wanted him, he was so pretty and cute. I've grieved for a year over him," the West Monroyan continued.

Yesterday morning, just before she woke up, Mrs. Harper dreamed that Sonny came home.

Within an hour, as she walked down the street to a neighbor's house, she felt something tugging at the back of her coat.

It was a white dog, bigger than the year-old puppy she had lost, but still it looked like her Sonny.

"Princess Anne, my daughter's collie dog, was with me, and he never lets any other dogs near me. But he recognized Sonny right away."

UNCERTAIN

Still unsure that the long-lost pet actually was back, Mrs. Harper went into the neighbor's house. Within a few minutes, she was back out.

The white dog raced ahead of her, jumped onto the porch and dashed in when she opened the door.

"He looked around, saw the chair he always sat in, jumped into it, then ran to the bathroom, pulled down a bathtowel and brought it back to the living room."

Sonny had a habit of hanging onto a bathtowel — he was wrapped in one to keep warm during his earlier days, and the "baby habit" clung to him.

"My little girl will be so happy Saturday when she comes home and finds him — she's going to stay overnight at a friend's house tonight," the happy Mrs. Harper beamed.

One incident marred the homecoming. Sonny's only "cat-friend" Tommy, the Harper's Persian, was stolen during his absence, and replaced by another cat, "Snowball."

And Sonny, who hates all other cats, made this bitingly clear to the new white intruder.

Police Probing Two Burglaries

Monroe police yesterday were investigating two petty burglaries which occurred sometime Wednesday night or Thursday morning.

The first netted the burglars a small automatic pistol and holster from the Southern Beauty Aid Co., 221 Sterlington Road, The owner, Ralph Johnson, reported the burglary to police. Chief James Kelly said entrance to the building was gained through a rest room window.

The other burglary occurred at the Fashionaire Beauty Shop, 215 Sterlington Road. Nothing, however, was reported taken, Monroe police said.

WM Mayor Sets Observation For American History

Mayor J. Allan Norris has proclaimed February American History Month in West Monroe.

In his proclamation, Norris called for observance of the month "in order that our citizens may better appreciate the great spiritual strength and wisdom of our forefathers and assist in the building of a continuing heritage of faith, fortitude and righteousness for future generations."

The Chief Tusquahoma chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution is local sponsor of the event.

Mrs. R. E. Lee, American History Month chairman for the chapter, said, "America is great. It is our duty to keep it so.

"American History Month is an opportunity for you to remind Americans that freedom is not free. To pay our debt to the past and understand our obligations to the future, we must realize that the freedom, which is ours to enjoy and challenge to keep, came about through the sacrifice, wisdom, perservance and faith of our forefathers."

POLES "HIC" DESPITE HIKE

WARSAW (UPI) — Price hikes and sales restrictions did not slake the Polish thirst for vodka last year, according to government figures published Friday. In 1959, Poles drank more than 17 million gallons of the fiery stuff.

Mamie Not Going To S. America

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—While President Eisenhower was golfing in the California desert sun Friday, the White House announced that Mamie Eisenhower will not accompany her husband to South America next month because her doctors advised against making the trip.

Mrs. Eisenhower currently is in Denver, visiting her ailing mother, Mrs. John S. Doud. The President will stop off in Denver Sunday and his wife will fly back to Washington with him Monday.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters here there was nothing "wrong" with the first lady, but because of the rigors of the South American journey, the White House doctors—Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder and Col. Walter R. Tkach—thought it best that Mamie stay at home.

Mrs. Eisenhower suffered a childhood illness, later believed to have been rheumatic fever, which left her with a chronic heart murmur. She also ha chronic difficulty with her inner ear canal which occasionally affects her equilibrium and makes flying unpleasant for her. She also underwent surgery in 1957.

The South American trip begins Feb. 22 and will involve 17,000 miles of flying to Puerto Rico, Brazil, Argentina, Chile and Uruguay. The area south of the equator now is in the hottest part of the summer.

As to whether Mrs. Eisenhower is now suffering from any specific complaint, Hagerty said, "no, its just a long flight and hot weather."

"She's fine," Hagerty added, "except that this will be a rough trip. The doctors thought it would be better if she didn't go."

Hagerty said that as far as he knew, the first lady still planned to accompany the President to Russia in June.

The State Department was notified of Mrs. Eisenhower's change in plans, and word was then relayed to the American embassies in South America. They in turn informed the foreign governments which must now cancel a number of plans in which the first lady would have been a central figure.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Jet Pilot Says He Turned Away

MILLBROOK, Ala. (UPI) — An Air Force pilot whose jet plane crashed into a house and killed two occupants in a fiery explosion said Friday he turned the craft away from the city of Montgomery before he parachuted.

An elderly Negro couple was killed Thursday night when the plane, a T-33 jet trainer, crashed into the front of their small frame home, exploded and burned.

The house was destroyed by fire and the bedroom in which Mayam Long, 73, and his wife, Louise, 65, were killed was ripped by the explosion and flying metal. They died almost instantly in their beds and their bodies were burned.

The pilot, Lt. Col. Roy H. Turnquiest, a veteran senior Air Force pilot with 65 combat missions, said the plane experienced a power failure almost immediately after takeoff from Maxwell Air Force Base.

He said he turned the plane away from Montgomery's thicklysettled residential and business districts as soon as he discovered the plane could not achieve maximum power and he must eject.

The plane tore into the house in the Millbrook community seven miles north of Montgomery.

Turnquist, assigned to the Pentagon, ejected at an altitude of only 500 feet and suffered a sprained ankle when he parachuted into the front yard of a home half a mile from the crash scene.

Eight Given Commissions At Northeast

Eight Northeast State mid-term graduates were appointed second lieutenants in the U. S. Army Reserve in special ceremony yesterday in the Fine Arts Little Theatre.

The commissions were presented by Lt. Col. Howard P. Landry, professor of military science and tactics at Northeast.

Lt. Col. Lawrence Longfellow, assistant PMS&T, administered the oath of office to the following new lieutenants: Melvin L. Case, Monroe; Donald J. Crocker, Monroe; Donnie L. Easterling, Winnsboro; Paul A. Helams, Delhi; Albert F. McMullen, Monroe; Billy W. May, Monroe; James W. Moore, Monroe; and Billy R. Stewart, Monroe.

Crocker and May were designated as Distinguished Military Graduates and plan to make the army a career, Col. Landry announced.

Fields of service which the lieutenants will enter include: Helams, artillery; Crocker, corps of engineers; Easterling, McCullen, May and Stewart, infantry; Case, ordnance corps; and Moore, transportation corps.

ADVISED

The lieutenants were advised to remain in a reserve unit by Dr. C. P. Gray, Jr., colonel in the US army reserve. Reservists have advantages over civilians, the speaker told the group. They have training every year which means better preparation for service in event of need.

"Whether we are in a hot or cold war," Gray emphasized the need of strong reserve uints. Reserve components and volunteers, he explained, are depended upon to strengthen the regular army in case of an emergency.

Pointing to advantages of the Reserve Officers Training Corps, the speaker underscored that it is "better to go into service as trained soldiers than to be called to duty without training."

Dr. Ernest D. Holloway, former dean of men at Northeast, gave the invocation and benediction at the ceremony.

Following the commissioning was a social hour in the lounge adjoining the theatre, where the new officers were honored.

IN DISTRICT COURT

Slaying Admitted By Suspect Here

A Monroe Negro, indicted on a murder charge by the Ouachita Parish Grand Jury, yesterday pled guilty during a Fourth District Court session that saw 48 cases of drunk driving charges come before the bench.

Dixon pled guilty to the killing, after the state agreed to accept the plea without imposing the death sentence.

WEST MONROE TOURNEY

Calhoun, Grayson Win; Join Locals In Semifinals

Favored Calhoun routed Ouachita and Grayson whipped Bastrop yesterday to join Neville and St. Matthew's in today's semifinals of the annual West Monroe Invitational Basketball Tournament. The host Rebels and Neville grabbed victories to move into the girls finals.

Calhoun, paced by its twin point-makers — Spike Smith and Scottie Sims — turned in a torrid second half to stretch a slim advantage into a 75-56 triumph over Ouachita. Sims personally dropped in ten points in the period as the Chiefs pulled away from a 35-30 halftime margin to sack up their 33rd victory against 3 setbacks.

Sims wound up with high point honors, notching 24 points, while Smith poured in 21. Harry Crowe led the Lions with 12 points. Teammates Bobby Hendrix and newcomer Carl Guinn tossed in 11 apiece. Guinn, who became eligible only Wednesday played a fine game at the pivot before fouling out shortly after the half.

The game was a nip-and-tuck affair throughout the first half. After the lead had changed hands four times in the opening period, Calhoun moved ahead 19-14 at the quarter turn and was never behind from that point on.

Deadly from the foul line, the Chiefs sank 27 of 34 attempts.

Slim Melvin Jordan hit the tournament high of 33 points in leading Grayson, a strong contender, past Bastrop, 67-50. Ned Head scored 18 for the losers.

Grayson grabbed a quick 20-13 lead after a quarter and was never in serious danger after that.

L. V. Norris' West Monroe boys put down a surprisingly strong Southside threat, 48-40, to gain the consolation finals in the losers' bracket. Roy Lee Scroggins paved the way with 18 points and Oliver Schultz followed with 10. The count was knotted 11-11 after eight minutes but the Rebels were ahead at intermission 25-22.

Southside tallied only one point in the third quarter and that was the ball game. R. Dingler contributed 15 points for the Pelicans.

Neville's girls put together outstanding performances in separate halves by Cecile Menuet and Brenda Cobb to halt Ouachita, 63-49. Miss Cobb, high for the game with 29 points, got 20 of them in the first half while Miss Menuet bagged 22 in the second stanza.

Janice Holloway was high for Ouachita with 26 points and led her club to a 15-12 margin after one period. Neville squared the count midway in the second period and pulled away for the win.

West Monroe held Grayson to a single point inthe first quarter and three counters in the third in romping to an easy 51-19 decision. Nancy Smith netted 21 points and Joyce Saxon sacked 11 for the winners and Yvonne May put in 8 for the losers.

Hawks Top Pistons In Overtime Tilt

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Hawks blew a 12-point lead in the face of a sizzling Detroit fourth quarter drive but recovered in overtime for a 130-125 National Basketball Assn. victory Friday night.

Bob Pettit and Clyde Lovellette hit 30 points each and Cliff Hagan 26 as the Hawks widened their Western Division lead to 9½ games and made it six victories in eight games with the Pistons this year.

The Hawks led 91-79 entering the last quarter but the Pistons rallied to tie it 117-117 on a pair of free throws by 7-foot Walt Dukes with 10 seconds left.

RUDOLPH AMONG LEADERS

Four Tie At Midway Mark Of San Diego Tournament

By BOB MYERS

SAN DIAGO, Calif. (AP)—Four professionals, including the first round sensation, Mason Rudolph of Tennessee, stroked into a first-place tie Friday at the midway mark of the $20,000 San Diego Open.

Rudolph, who set a record 63 Thursday, fell back to par 72. He wound up deadlocked with big Mike Souchak, tournament veteran from Grossinger, N.Y., who had a 68, and Bob Goalby of Crystal River, Fla., and Johnny Pott of Shreveport, La., each with 66s.

Play was at the Mission Valley Country Club, which measures 6,716 and has par of 36-36-72. Weather conditions were ideal.

One precarious stroke back of the leaders were Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor 1959's biggest money winner, with his second successive 68; Sammy Reynolds, Springfield, Mo., and young Allen Geiberger of Studio City, Calif., who followed his first round 64 with a 72.

Rudolph, 25-year-old recent graduate from the amateur ranks from Clarksville, Tenn., came to the 18th green with a chance to retain the undisputed lead.

But his tee shot on the 210-yard hole sailed over the bleachers to the left of the green, far away near the practice tee. He pitched back 40 feet past the hole. He took two putts to get down for a bogey.

Par again took a shellacking, and even par golf of 144 for the two rounds was not good enough to survive the cut to the low 60 players and ties.

Included among the casualties were Billy Maxwell (149), Jack Burke Jr. (146) and three former National Open champions, Jack Fleck, Lloyd Mangrum and Ed Furgol.

The current National Open king, Billy Casper, recovered from a first round 72 with a 68 for 140.

Tied at 137 were Billy Thornton, Jupiter, Fla., and veteran Dutch Harrison of Tucson, Ariz., who is still rankled because he had to qualify to play. Harrison had a 69. Dave Marr, Cedarhurst, N.Y., with 71, also had 137.

Scores of other well known pros included Arnold Palmer, 69, and Tommy Bolt, 72, for 140; Dave Ragan, 73, Julius Boros, 68, and Doug Sanders, 70, all in the 142 bracket.

Rudolph who shot 31-32-63 Thursday, took 38 strokes on the first nine but settled down for a 34 on the second nine.

Smiley Quick, Los Angeles, shot a hole in one on the 189-yard seventh with a No. 2-iron. It was the fifth ace in four tournaments thus far on the winter tournament trail.

AT SOUTHEASTERN

Tribe Back In Action Monday

Northeast Louisiana State College basketballers, with exams out of the way and an eight-day rest from competition nearly over, return to Gulf States Conference play Monday night when they meet Southeastern Louisiana College in Hammond.

It will be the first meeting of the season between the two clubs.

Northeast Coach Lenny Fant, noting Southeastern's height, said tall clubs have been making trouble all year for his Indians, who lack both height and experience.

However, he added that if Northeast continued to hit as it had in the last few contests, his Indians should be in the game all the way.

Northeast's breather followed its 95-81 victory over Nicholls State Jan. 23 — the Indians' second win of the season against 15 losses. Northeast's only other win was a 68-55 victory over Southwestern Louisiana Institute Jan. 11.

Thursday night Southwestern, top club in the GSC, downed Southeastern 81-72 as the Lafayette boys sank 50 per cent of their field-goal shots. SLI also sank 29 of 34 free throws.

The losing Southeastern Lions made 40 per cent of their field-goal attempts and 78 per cent of their free throws.

In the Indians' last outing against Nicholls, Fant's crew sank 55 per cent from the floor and set a season's scoring record for the club with the 95-point total.

Fant called it the "best shooting effort we've had, although we've been shooting well in the last few games." The Northeast coach has seen steady improvement in his inexperienced squad over the last six or seven games and is hoping his crew can pick up where it left off.

Fant will use his same five starters against Southeastern — Ron Doyle, Fred Bradley, Lanny Johnson, Charlie Barnes and Robert Cook. Fant was well pleased with the Nicholls triumph, calling it a "well-balanced effort."

All five starters racked up points in double figures, Johnson leading the list with 23 points.

After Monday night's game, the Indians and Southeastern will come to Monroe for a Feb. 6 contest. Northeast then takes on tough Mississippi Southern Feb. 8 in Monroe.

Three Claim Finals Berths

STERLINGTON, La. (Special) — West Monroe girls and Smith and Neville boys joined Smith girls in the finals of the A. L. Smith Junior High Tournament with victories here last night.

Gates and McEnery scored 8 points each to lead West Monroe to a 25-20 conquest of Goodwill. Wining got 12 for Goodwill. Corbin and Bryant put in 13 points apiece as the local boys stopped Ouachita, 41-29. Trimbell and Dyer got 7 each for the losers. Fallin's 18 points helped Neville rout Farmerville, 60-20. Cheviller led the losers with 7.

Mer Rouge and Goodwill girls and Ouachita and Farmerville boys clash in consolation games at 4:45 and 5:45 today with Smith and West Monroe girls to meet at 6:45 and Smith and Neville boys at 7:45 in the finals.

Irish Tilt Reset

St. Matthew's game with Epps, scheduled for last night at Epps, was postponed until Monday night, Irish Coach Jim Mahoney said yesterday.

Mahoney said Epps requested the postponement because of its participation in the Holly Ridge Tournament.

WINNSBORO, La. (Special) — The Winnsboro girls defeated Ferriday, 36-25, here last night to win the district 2-A championship with a perfect 8-0 record for the season.

Robertson Moves Within 4 Points Of New Record

CINCINNATI (AP)—All-America Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati came within four points of setting a new three-year college basketball scoring record Friday night. But his 29 points led the Bearcats to a 64-43 victory over The Citadel.

Robertson needed 33 points to crack the mark of 2,538 points left when Frank Selvy wound up his varsity career with Furman in 1954.

The Citadel came within one point of a tie, 11-10, early in the first half, then faded fast and did not threaten.

Paret Makes It Two Straight

NEW YORK (AP)—Cuba's Benny (Kid) Paret made it two straight over Charley Scott by gaining a split decision over the Philadelphian in a close, action-packed television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Paret weighed 150, Scott 146.

The muscular, 22-year-old Paret proved his Dec. 18 victory over Scott was no fluke by slugging it out toe to toe with the vaunted puncher.

The Kid was credited with the only knockdown when he nailed Scott with a right to the ear in the fifth round. The heavy blow sent Charley spinning and one glove touched the floor. Refree Petey Della ruled it was a knockdown and gave Scott the mandatory eight count. That disputed knockdown proved the difference in the fight.

CROSSETT WINS, 41-35

CROSSETT, La. (Special) — Crossett, hot in the first half, froze over in the second but still managed to beat cellar-dwelling Arkadelphia, 41-35, here last night in a district 4-AA battle.

Hitting over half its shots in the first half, Crossett jumped into an early lead and was in front by a 15-1 count at one point. At halftime the score was 28-15. The local boys turned cold in the second half, however, and didn't hit a field goal in the third period but still held the lead, 33-24, as the fourth began.

Arkadelphia narrowed the score down to 37-35 with three minutes left but goals by Sam McMahan and Robert Mizell pushed the margin to 41-35 before the end.

Mizell led the scoring for Crossett, which made 37 per cent of its shots, while McMillan got 10 for Arkandelphia, which hit on

CIRCUIT COMPLETE

Buffalo Accepted As 8th Continental League Entry

NEW YORK (AP) — The major-minded Continental League was completed Friday with the addition of Buffalo as its eighth member. Circuit President Branch Rickey immediately said he planned to meet with Commissioner Ford Frick soon for acceptance into the baseball structure.

The announcement of the eighth team was made by Bill Shea, founder of the circuit, at a press conference in which Rickey and representative of the eight cities were present. It came 60 years to the day after the formation of the Western League, which became the American League the following year.

Buffalo currently a member of the International League, was voted in Thursday night when the league elected its officers. Rickey was retained as president and Jack Kent Cooke of Toronto was named vice president. Named to the executive board were Donald Grant of New York, J. W. Bateson of Dallas-Fort Worth and Reginald Taylor of Buffalo.

Other members are Houston, Denver, Atlanta and Minneapolis-St. Paul.

Shea said plans were under way in Buffalo to spend nearly a million dollars to enlarge Civic Stadium to a capacity of 30,000 or 35,000 persons. The expansion, he said, will be completed by the time the league starts playing in 1961.

Plans to build new stadiums and expanding old ones in the seven other cities are under way, Shea said.

"We do not expect to get all the parks completed in time for the league's first season," he said. "We may have to play somewhere else for a while."

Shea said the New York team hopes to play its home games in either of the city's three baseball parks — Ebbets Field, Polo Grounds or Yankee Stadium—until the 55,000-seat stadium in New York is completed.

The Continental League is launched as of this day," said Shea. "We are now in a position to go to Frick and take him up on his word in response to his statement:

"'When you get your eight teams, I'll be your commissioner.'"

From his offices, Frick issued the following statement:

"I will meet with Mr. Rickey any time he desires."

Asked whether that included Shea, the commissioner remarked: "The statement is self-explanatory."

The 79 - year - old Rickey, who sold his stock in the Pittsburgh Pirates last October to assume the presidency of the new league, said it would take four years before the CL could compete on equal basis with the majors.

"We realize we have many problems confronting us," he said, "such as player control, territorial rights, parks and player pensions. We are prepared to pay just and reasonable compensation to the minor leagues wherever it is right and proper.

"We are also ready to talk to the major leagues about players. The two avenues the majors have complete monopoly over are the player and territorial rights situation. We can't duck it. We have to go to them and make reasonable offers. We don't want anything for nothing."

The baseball league adopted a "disaster amendment" to "lift" a franchise in case of emergency.

The amendment was aimed specifically at the Cuban political situation and fears of some league officials that there was an element of danger there for American players.

It would make possible a shift of the league's Havana franchise without full league sanction, at the discretion of Shaughnessy.

The amendment was backed by Frank Horton, president of the Rochester Red Wings. Two Wings were nicked by stray bullets in Havana's Gran Stadium last Summer.

It was opposed by Paul Miller, general manager of the Havana Sugar Kings.

ATLANTA OR OAKLAND?

AFL Undecided On 8th Franchise

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS (AP) — The American Football League went through its fourth day Friday without picking the last franchise holder although only two cities — Atlanta and Oakland — were in the running.

And it still was talking about what action it might take to keep a competing National Football League club out of Dallas.

Commissioner Joe Foss departed at noon for Milwaukee where he was scheduled to speak at a banquet honoring Ingemar Johansson, world's heavyweight boxing champion, as the Associated Press' 1959 athlete of the year.

This caused the meeting to be recessed until Saturday morning when it is expected that Atlanta will get the eighth spot in the fledgling professional football league, now embroiled in an argument with the established NFL on the question of monopoly.

The NFL Thursday expanded by putting a club into Dallas and this brought claims from Foss that an effort was being made by the old circuit "to continue their present monopoly of professional football." He mentioned congressional or court action.

Lamar Hunt, owner of the AFL Dallas franchise and president of the league, said Friday that they had lawyers versed in antitrust action looking into the situation and "we feel we have a good case."

Hunt charged that he tried to get a franchise in the NFL but was told it didn't plan to expand at this time. Then, after he had organized the American Football League, the NFL decided to put a competing franchise—this one owned by Clint Murchison Jr. and Bedford Wynne, wealthy Dallas men—into Dallas, Hunt added.

Hunt and Foss claimed that Dallas was a one-team market and not large enough to support two franchises.

The two did not reveal which city had led in the voting to pick the eighth franchise but did say it was five votes to two. Authoritative sources said Atlanta was in the majority and indicated that had another vote been taken today it probably would have been 6-1, with Los Angeles the lone holdout. Los Angeles had announced prior to the meeting that it favored Oakland because that would create an area rivalry.

Hunt said that the holdup had been caused primarily by the stadium situation. Atlanta plans to use Ponce de Leon Park, the Southern Assn. baseball plant, seating about 22,000, until it can build a stadium. Oakland said it could use either Candlestick Park or Kezar Stadium but Hunt said there was another factor that entered into the Oakland situation —it was one of economic aspects: Whether the Bay State area was large enough to support two clubs. The NFL has a team in San Francisco.

He denied that there was hesitation over moving into Oakland because it might be construed as a similar move of the NFL—going into one of the other league's areas.

The AFL has competing clubs in Los Angeles and New York but Hunt maintains this is all right because those areas are large enough to support two franchises.

Hunt stressed the point that any action against the NFL would be by the league and not just Dallas. This is because, he said the NFL move affected the whole league inasmuch as it was striking at the heart of the AFL. Offices of the league are here.

Olmedo Finds Difference In Pro Tennis

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Alex Olmedo, the Peruvian ace who once led the United States to a surprise Davis Cup triumph, finds rofessional tennis "quite a bit different, better than the amateur game."

Olmedo made his U.S. pro debut triumphantly in San Francisco's Cow Palace before 3,892 applauding fans Thursday night. He defeated Tony Trabert of Los Angeles, another former amateur star who turned pro four years ago, 6-4, 6-2.

Olmedo, who wa accused of not concentrating on his game when he was defeated twice in three matches in the 1959 Davis Cup loss to Australia, volunteered:

"You must concentrate hard in professional tennis. You can't miss. One bad play might cost you the match.

"You can't relax. I did relax sometimes in amateur tennis; rest between shots. Now I'll have to concentrate on every shot."

When does he hope to reach his peak?

"I hope to hit my peak in a year if I work hard."

The Peruvian played his initial match under promoter Jack Kramer's bounce-ball rule — under which a server may not storm the net immediately. Instead, both the server and receiver cannot volley the ball until after it has bounced.

"It's kind of hard to get used to bounce-ball," Alex commented. It's natural to hit the ball on the rise and rush to the net. Under bounce-ball you must stay back. If you start to rush up, then are forced back, you're dead. I almost rushed the net a time or two and had to go back."

Trabert also twice started to follow his serve to the net, but realized his error and backed up, fast.

Olmedo looked good in his San Francisco pro debut. But Trabert wasn't at his best. Tony hadn't played for two months, in which time he went from his 185 pounds playing weight of last year to 205. He's reduced to 193 but was not sharp and his timing was off.

IL Planning All-Out Fight Over 2 Clubs

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Frank Shaughnessy declared flatly Friday that the International League won't surrender Toronto and Buffalo to baseball's new major league "without a real fight."

Shaughnessy, president of the International, is presiding over the usually placid mid-winter meeting of the nation's senior minor circuit.

But the prospective loss of the IL's two prize cities to the new Continental League in 1961, and a bit of restiveness over the Havana franchise, sparked up the proceedings.

Whether the league would take any definitive action on either problem remained to be seen. But no waiting was necessary to find out Shaughnessy's opinion of the Continentals.

"They have gone about the organization of this new league all wrong," Shag told a newsman. "Why, this new league doesn't even belong to the National Assn. (of baseball leagues). They have no agreement with anybody.

"They should have come to us in the first place. Now they're announcing things, like awarding franchises to Buffalo and Toronto, before they have the legal right to do so."

In New York Friday, Buffalo became the Continental League's eighth city.

Branch Rickey, president of the Continental League, has said Toronto and Buffalo IL franchises could be moved to other cities where they might be operated as Toronto and Buffalo farms. But how much the IL will ask for the two territories, said Shaughnessy, is up to the league's board of directors."

On the Cuban question, some club presidents fear political unrest could cause incidents worse than last summer's nicking of a couple of Rochester players by stray bullets. A resolution empowering the league president to "lift" a franchise in an emergency was under consideration.

Pro Football Fight Private Battle--Estes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pro football's quarrel over rights to play in Dallas and other cities was described by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) Friday as a private battle and not one for Congress to settle.

While demanding fair treatment of the new American Football League, Kefauver said neither the AFL nor the established National Football League has a prior claim on any city.

Dallas became the first hot spot in a war between the leagues when the NFL Thursday voted to take it in next season. The AFL, which expects to open in 1961, already was located in Dallas with a franchise owned by league President Lamar Hunt.

Hunt and AFL Commissioner Joe Foss accused the NFL of attempting to crush their league and to monopolize the entire spot. NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle again made note of the fact that the AFL intends to operate in New York and Los Angeles, both NFL cities.

Foss called Dallas a one-team market and said it was different. He said he would fight the NFL in Congress or court.

Kefauver heads the Senate antimonopoly subcommittee, which has been handling sports legislation.

Boone, Four Rookies Sign Braves Pacts

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The signing of veteran Ray Boone and four rookies was announced by the Milwaukee Braves Friday, boosting to 11 the number in the fold for the 1960 season.

Newcomers signed were pitchers Jack Caffery, Ron Piche and Vic Rehm and infielder Ron Hunt. Caffery, a southpaw, had an 8-5 record and a 2.17 earned run average with Austin the Texas League last season. Piche, a right hander, was 8-5 with Louisville in the American Assn., while Rehm, a left-hander, was 11-16 with the same club. Hunt hit .269 with McCook in the Class D Nebraska State League.

Boone, picked up from the Kansas City Athletics to help the Braves late in the campaign, appeared at bat only 15 times, getting one homer and a pair of singles.

The Braves also announced the signing of left - handed pitcher Herbert Hippauf, 19, of Pasadena (Calif.) City College to a contract with Yakima in the Class B Northwest League.

TAR HEELS TRY AGAIN

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina has never beaten Notre Dame on the football field but the Tar Heels will give it another try in Kenan Stadium here Oct. 8. The Irish have won all nine games played. Under new coach Jim Hickey North Carolina had a 5-5 season last year, closing out with a 30-0 win over Duke.

AT RUSTON TONIGHT

Louisiana Tech, Centenary Clash

RUSTON, La. (Special) —Arch rivals Louisiana Tech and Centenary College will take the floor at Ruston Saturday night for their first meeting on the basketball court this season. Game time for the non - conference tilt will be 8 p.m. at Tech's Memorial Gymnasium.

The Bulldogs and the Gentlemen have hooked up in some thrillers in past years and Saturday night's tussle could easily be more of the same. However, Tech fans probably hope that the contest will not be quite as close as the last two Bulldog battles at Ruston.

After racking up 18 straight victories on the home court over the past two seasons, the Techmen dropped two thrillers in a row in their Memorial Gymnasium. In each game the Tech Canines were ahead with only seconds remaining to play and in each tilt they lost after the regulation playing time had ended.

Southwestern Louisiana beat the Tech five, 57-54, by sinking three free shots after the final whistle had blown in a Jan. 15 game. In an overtime tilt on Jan. 16, Mississippi Southern came out on the long end of a 74-70 count.

Both Tech and Centenary will be gunning for victory number 10 Saturday night. Coach Orvis Sigler's Gents, fresh from a 65-58 win over strong Oklahoma City University at Shreveport Monday, will bring a 9-7 won - loss record into the fray. Tech has now a 9-6 standing for the season.

Coach Cecil Crowley of Tech has ahd to revise his linuep the last two games because of injuries to two of his cagers.

Center Jack Moreland, Tech's leading scorer and rebounder, missed the last two games as the result of an injury on Jan. 15 that put him in the hospital for a week. He worked out with the team for the first time Tuesday and he may see some action Saturday night against Centenary if his doctor gives the go ahead sign.

A broken finger suffered in the Mississippi Southern game on Jan. 18 has put guard Jim Tullos on the bench and he likely will not see any more action this season.

58 PLAYERS SIGNED

Dallas AFL Club Set For Rivalry

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — With 58 players signed up and ticket salesmen out beating the bushes, the Dallas Texans of the American Football League are ready to give their hometown pro rivals a run for the money.

General Manager Don Rossi hasn't identified all of the 58 signed to play for the club sired by wealthy young oilman Lamar Hunt. He prefers to announce one or two at a time to keep the Texans on the front pages.

That practice, and a sharp booster organization pushing ticket club is trying for a hold on the fans' affections.

In Miami Thursday night, the National Football League announced granting of a franchise to Dallas. The NFL club is also backed by some of Dallas' richest men. Stars they have signed up include Don Meredith of Southern Methodist.

The Texans of the AFL will be a youngish team, made up mostly of 1959 college stars. One of the big names is Chris Burford, Stanford end who led the nation in pass receiving with 756 yards and six touchdowns on 61 catches. Burford did a spectacular job of catching passes in the East-West Shrine game.

A ready - made backfield is signed up: Fran Curci, Miami, Fla., quarterback; Abner Haynes, North Texas State, and Johnny Robinson, LSU, halfbacks, and Jack Spikes, Texas Christian, fullback.

Trouble brews over Robinson. The Detroit Lions of the NFL claim they signed him first. The Texans claim they signed Robinson right after the Sugar Bowl game—the earliest date possible under rules of both loops.

Curci is a little guy, among football players, but Texan Coach Hank Stram says. "Curci is a competitor; he's good on the roll out and can throw pretty well."

Spikes and Haynes were the first and second draft choices of tte Pittsburgh Steelers. Hard-running Spikes was 10th in the nation Rushing last year with 660 yards. Haynes, a flashy speedster, was 7th among collegians in rushing with 730 yards on 116 carries.

Ole Miss guard Marvin Terrell signed the other day and his home town of Indianola, Miss., turned out en masse to applaud.

Several Texan players have pro experience. Sherrill Headrick, an All - Southwest Conference guard for Texas Christian in 1956, played in Canada last year. Ed Bernet, former SMU player, got in a year with the Pittsburgh Steelers. Johnny Bookman and Charles Diamond, former Miami, Fla., players, also have pro experience.

Sports Editor Louis Cox of the Dallas Times Herald says sentiment of the average football fan in Dallas seems to be with Lamar Hunt's club.

"Fans believe he is sincere in saying he did everything possible to get a NFL team for Dallas," Cox commented. "It wasn't until it appeared the new league would get off the ground that National League officials said anything about expansion."

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson will give a series of boxing exhibitions at U.S. military bases in Alaska, the USO said Friday.

The champion's brother, Rolf: a sparring partner and advisor Edwin Ahlquist will be in the party. The two-week tour will begin in mid-March.

D. DiMaggio Co-Owner Of Boston Entry

BOSTON (AP)—Dom DiMaggio, former Boston Red Sox outfielder, was identified Friday as one of the 10 owners of the Boston entry in the American Football League.

William Sullivan, president protem of the club, made the announcement which included himself as one of the owners.

Sullivan said the announcement was delayed since early December in hopes the coach of the team and all the owners could be introduced to the public at the same time.

However, he said General Manager Ed McKeever's plans to interview and sign the head coach candidate (the field has been narrowed to four), have been interrupted by the current AFL meeting Dallas.

Sears, Guerin Spark Knicks Over Royals

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Kenny Sears and Richie Guerin, scoring 47 points between them, led the New York Knicks to an easy 128-113 victory over the Cincinnati Royals Friday night in the first game of a National Basketball Assn. twin bill. The contest was played before a record 12,559 fans in Convention Hall.

The Philadelphia Warriors took on the Boston Celtics in the nightcap.

The defeat was the Royals' eighth straight.

Man Wounded By Bullet While On Train

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—A passenger aboard the Pennsylvania Railroad's Congressional Limited was shot and wounded Friday by a bullet that pierced a window of the train as it sped through Tacony, Pa.

The victim was identified by police as Henry Friedlander, 25, of Baltimore, Md.

A waiting ambulance here took Friedlander to St. Francis Hospital where his condition was listed as serious.

The hospital said the bullet, apparently fired from a rifle, lodged in the victim's head above the temple.

Friedlander was given emergency aid on the train by another passenger, Dr. H. B. Cates, of Wilmington, Del.

A PRR spokesman said the bullet crashed through the window as the train, traveling about 60 miles an hour, sped by the SKF Industries plant in North Philadelphia's Tacony section, about 21 miles south of Trenton. The time was 1:51 p.m.

The train was halted at Croydon Pa., 13 miles from Trenton, and information of the accident telephoned ahead.

Traveling with Friedlander was Justine Piersonte, of the A. Jacobs & Sons firm of Baltimore, for whom the wounded man also worked.

Police began an investigation.

Abe Woodson of the San Francisco 49ers led the National Football League in kickoff returns with a 29.4 average last season. He took 13 kickoffs a total of 382 yards.

MRS. ALBERT WAYNE WOLFE

Miss Patricia Williams, Albert Wayne Wolfe Wed In Monticello, Arkansas

An out-of-tour wedding of interest in Monroe was that of Miss Patricia Kay Williams and Albert Wayne Wolfe on Friday, January 15, at six o'clock in the evening in the First Methodist Church in Monticello, Arkansas. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Williams of Monticello, and the grand-daughter of Mrs. A. G. Williams, Sr. and the late Dr. and Mrs. J. Frank Eubanks of Bastrop, Louisiana. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Wolfe of Pine Bluff, Arkansas. He is the grandson of Mrs. W. B. Wolfe, also of Pine Bluff.

The Rev. R. O. Beck performed the double-ring ceremony before a background of white gladioli interspersed with greenery and four seven-branched candelabra. Candles were lighted by Robert Hall of Hamburg, Arkansas and Sam Vittatow of DeWitt, Arkansas, who also served as ushers.

Miss Jo Ann Chapman of Hamburg, organist, presented a program of nupital music preceeding and during the ceremony and accompanied Miss Mary Ann Law of Hamburg, who sang "O Perfect Love" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz-length gown of white chantilly lace over bridal satin fashioned with a fitted bodice with a scalloped neckline outlined with seed pearls and long lace sleeves ending in a lily point at the wrists. The full skirt featured large tiered ruffles of lace, and her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a cap of soft net and seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid encircled with white carnations and white satin streamers.

Miss Gerrye Anita Smith, the bride's maid of honor and her only attendant, wore a full skirted dress of blue polished cotton, fashioned with a fitted bodice of lace and a scooped neckline and cap sleeves. Her matching headband held a veil on which were scattered seed pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations tied with pink satin ribbons.

Bobby Fowler of Pine Bluff served the bridegroom as best man, and ushers were Al Williams, brother of the bride, and Bill Pearson of Mc Gehee, Arkansas.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The serving table was covered with a pink cloth overlaid with pink net and pink satin rosettes and centered with an arrangement of pink and white carnations and white stock. Miss Judy McKenny, Miss Charlotte Hyatt, Mrs. Charles Dearman, Miss Elaine Edwards, Miss Betty Lou Miller, Miss Kay Clark, Miss Sherry Cox and Mrs. Tom Biddle assisted in serving. Miss Annette Crockett of Dermott, Arkansas, presided at the bride's book.

For travel the bride wore a black and grey checked wool suit-dress with black accessories, and the orchid from her bridal bouquet penned at her shoulder. After a short honeymoon trip the couple will be at home in Monticello, where they will attend Arkansas A. & M. College.

RIDE AND READ

TRENTON, N. J. (AP) — Five mornings a week a Pennsylvania Railroad commuter train en route to New York stops here and picks up two young women who have an unusual pastime — they publish the train's own newspaper.

The two — Cathy Woolston, 23, and Susan Wilson, 24 — publish the "Secaucus Stopover," which is read by several hundred commuters.

The 2-year-old paper started as an April fool's joke and has been going regularly since.

Susan says they keep the paper just "for the fun of it" while Cathy feels the paper helps commuters get acquainted.

Questions And Answers Guide For Homemakers

By BETTY PEPIS

Q. —I would like help with our recreation room. The wallpaper is yellow with green ivy trailing up and down. The floor is white tile with dark green in it. Draperies are a soft yellow tweed. We have a turquoise sofa and white chair, walnut tables with white formica tops. We need another chair, floor pillows, throw pillows and a fiber rug. What type of lamps would look best?

A. —Have your new chair in yellow and all pillows in yellow and white (for both sofa and floor). If you get these in plastic they will be practical. Fiber rug should also be yellow thereby creating almost totally yellow background for your mixture of colored furniture. White ceramic based lamps with white shades would be best. Keep material of lamps the same although shapes and sizes can be varied.

Q.— Last year I bought an embossed wool carpet: light green and a darker green. I've been furious at myself ever since. It looked beautiful in the store but it shows shading everytime a foot rests on it and isn't for a home of normal living people. I'd have to be vrushing the pile every two minutes to have it look right so I do hope you have some carpet suggestions that avoid this situation.

A. —Stop brushing the pile up. Anything will show signs of use. Trying to keep pile high on a carpet is like trying to keep scratches off sterling silver. Let the carpet go completely for two weeks (if you can control yourself) and it should develop an interesting patina that proves it has been walked on by "normal living" people.

Q. —We have a living room and den that open up into one another. In the den the studio couch is brown and an occasional chair shrimp. In the living room sofa and chair are beige and an odd chair is turquoise. The rug is brown and white tweed. What color wallpaper and draperies would go with this combination?

A. —Try to get a paper and fabric that match. Design should be very small. A white background would be most desirable with small figures in browns, beiges and cocoas.

Q. —The walls, ceiling and woodwork in my living room and adjoining dining room are a light pinkish beige. I am going to get wall - to - wall carpeting. I have a birch dining room set, a dark mahogany piano and a light television set. All other furniture will be replaced. I am very fond of Japanese decor: vases, pictures, and accessories. Can you give me some suggestions for completing the rooms with the rug?

A. —Match walls for rug in light pinkish beige. For an Oriental effect use split bamboo draperies at window and have them sprayed color of the wall. Have them to the floor and have wood cornices also painted pink- beige. Now start adding color. A red lacquer coffee table might suggest a deeper red for the sofa covering. Low hassocks on either side of table could repeat beige and take the place of occasional chairs. Dining chairs might have seats repeating red and otherwise keep all furnishings to black and beige planning eventually to refinish piano and television set with black lacquer too.

Juan Peron Sees Strength For Supporters

TORREMOLINOS, Spain (UPI) —Former Argentine dictator Juan D. Peron Friday predicted his still - powerful supporters would show more strength than all the other parties in Argentina's March elections.

Leaders of Peron's faction, the Peronistas, claim they have 3,000,000 followers. In past elections, they have cast blank ballots as a show of strength against the government of Arturo Frondizi.

However, Peron's prediction was dulled by the fact that in previous elections, there normally had been a percentage of blank votes and many other voters, who opposed Peron voted that way in disgust at President Frondizi's austerity policies.

Peron said, "they (his Peronistas) know that I have only tried to serve Argentina and its interests."

The former dictator, who once said he would not go to live in a European oblivion like other exiles from his nation, told United Press International, "I am not going to Switzerland to settle down."

YOUR PROBLEMS

No Mention Of Baby On Way Seems Pretty Poor

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann: As you can see, this letter is being written in Japan. My mother sends me every one of your columns.

I'm 22 and have been in the Army for 20 months. When I left for overseas my girl promised to wait for me. We were not officially engaged but we had an understanding. Emily writes three times a week and her letters are wonderful. In every letter she says she loves me and can't wait till we're together again.

Last week my kid brother wrote that Emily is very pregnant. His guess is she'll have the baby next month. He said he debated for weeks before he decided to tell me.

It will be April before I'll be able to get home and learn the whole story. I think I still love her and want her for my wife. Please help a- MIXED UP G.I.

Dear Mixed Up: What do you want—a blueprint? You know the story. The only thing you need to be filled in on is the cast of characters.

A girl who would neglect to mention a detail like a baby on the way sounds like pretty poor wife material. Take your time, soldier and think over carefully the hazards if you marry a girl with this kind of history.

* * *

Dear Ann: I'm not one who likes to go around telling people how to live, but that letter from Y.C. burned me up. He said you must be some sort of a nut because you didn't think it was necessary for kids to play with toy guns.

Y. C. said he was raised with toy guns and it helped him become a good shot. I had toy guns when I was a kid, and I was a darned good marksman but last year I shot another hunter. It was his fault but I'll never get over it.

Anyone who thinks guns a part of our American heritage is ignorant. Weapons of defense happen to be necessary in the kind of world we're living in. But guns don't make for patriotism or love or brotherhood.

In addition to other symptoms of these sick times we have gun-totin' cowboys on every TV channel. American children are growing up to believe the best man is the one who is fastest on the draw—a fine commentary on our culture.—D.C. DISSENTER

Dear Ann: My grandmother is 87 years old. She has been in the hospital for five weeks. Every night my mother and dad go to see her. They insist that my sister who is 15 and I (17) go with them.

My two aunts come with their husbands but they don't drag their kids along. We can't see any point in spending two hours every night in the hospital. Grandma doesn't even know where she is or who we are.

Mom says this is the least we can do for Grandma in her last days on earth. What do you think? If you say we should go we won't say another word but our school work is falling off.—DRAGGED PAIR

Dear Dragged Pair: Under the circumstances it makes no sense whatever for you kids to spend every evening by the bedside of someone who doesn't know you're there.

If your parents feel they must go, fine, but I hope they'll permit you kids to stay home where you belong so you can do your school-work.

* * *

Confidential to MAD DAD: Save your pipes. Some kids have to learn the hard way. When your son learns his lesson he'll know what to tell HIS son—who probably won't listen either.

* * *

To learn the bobby-traps of teenage drinking, write for ANN LANDERS' booklet "Teenage Drinking," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

24 Scientists Stranded At Antarctic Post

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Twenty-three Argentine scientists and a North American are marooned at lonely Ellsworth Base in the Antarctic with little hope of leaving for another year.

Rear Adm. Rodolfo Panzarini, director of the Argentine Antarctic Institute, said Friday the 4,850-ton Argentine icebreaker San Martin had tried to reach the men with a relief crew but gave up after three weeks.

Sixty miles of solid pack ice barred the way and will block further evacuation attempts until about this time in 1961, he said.

The scientists have been at Ellsworth since January, 1959. Panzarini emphasized they have enough food and supplies to last through the long Antarctic winter now approaching.

Ellsworth Base was originally set up by the United States in 1957 to conduct studies for the International Geophysical Year. The base was turned over to Argentina a year ago.

Ingrid Bergman Fighting For Custody Right

ROME (AP)—Ingrid Bergman, fighting to keep the custody of her children Friday, gave a Rome court a letter from movie producer Roberto Rossellini telling about his association with Indian script writer Sonali Das Gupta.

The Swedish film star, who has married again although the annulment of her marriage to Rossellini still is not final under Italian law, is fighting the Italian producer's legal maneuvers to regain custody of the three children of their seven-year marriage.

Recently there have been indications that Miss Bergman and Rossellini might reach a friendly agreement on the children. But Miss Bergman's attorneys gave a whole new file on the case to Judge Alberto Virgilio Friday. It included a letter the actress said Rossellini had sent her from India in 1957 describing in detail his association with Mrs. Das Gupta.

Mrs. Das Gupta, who at that time was married to an Indian movie director, now lives outside Rome with a 2-year-old daughter that Miss Bergman has told the court is Rossellini's.

Attorney Marcello Barbiero Corsetti, Miss Bergman's representative, said the file on her life with Rossellini was "explosive." It has not been admitted by Judge Virgilio as part of the court record. Corsetti said it also includes a detailed account of the money Miss Bergman spent to maintain her family during her marriage to Rossellini. She is now wed to Swedish businessman Lars Schmidt.

After the introduction of Miss Bergman's file, Rossellini's attorney, Gino Sotis, told reporters he would submit a counter file about the actress. The judge asked Sotis to submit Rossellini's file for study by Feb. 10 and set the next hearing for Feb. 18.

DEAR ABBY

Mother's 'Bad Habit' Perhaps Good Memory

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: This is for "Got Even" who resented her husband's respecting the memory of his deceased wife.

Four years ago I married a fine widower with a 9-year-old daughter whose mother died at her birth. On Mother's Day, Christmas and special occasions my husband placed a wreath of flowers on her grave. Last Valentine's Day he was out of town. He wired me flowers, but there was no one to place flowers on his dead wife's grave. No one except Ruthie (my step-daughter) and I. On his return, Ruthie related the events of interest during his absence. She ended with, ". . . and Mommie put a red heart of roses on Mother's grave."

The look of tenderness my husband gave me was worth a king's ransom. I knew then and there that should I die, there would always be flowers on my grave. In the words of a famous writer:

"I beg of you, do not forget me
When the phenomenon of death visits me.
Oh, keep my memory alive,
For if you forget me, only then
Will I have surely died."

LEAH

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 years old and am no more boy-crazy than any other girl my age. My complaint is that no matter what happens my mother says, "Get your mind off the boys for two minutes."

I lost my gym suit and my mother said, "If you didn't have your mind on the boys you wouldn't have lost it!"

I was at my girl friend's house and we got to talking and I was late getting home by only fifteen minutes. She blamed it on "the boys" again. If my grades slip a little she says it's because I'm thinking about boys.

How can I get my mother out of this bad habit?

NOT BOY-CRAZY

DEAR N. B. C.: Your mother doesn't have a "bad habit" — she has a good memory.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MRS. W.: I have heard that there is an organization called "Gamblers Anonymous" which operates on much the same principle as Alcoholics Anonymous. Consult your local telephone directory for their number.

RAYON AND NYLON

The price war between rayon and nylon yarn makers in the bitter fight for the big passenger car tire market is apparently taking its toll on earnings, some observers speculated Friday. American Enka Corp., a major manufacturer of rayon tire yarn Friday cut the dividend on the common from 35 cents to 25 cents a share. The company, however, declined to say why the cut was made.

IMPORTS

U.S. imports reached an all-time high of $15,212,300,000 in 1959, up 19 per cent over the previous year, the Commerce Department reported. The December total also hit a new peak of $1,477,806,000 or about 15 per cent higher than the November figure. This also was the highest monthly figure on record, surpassing the previous total of $1,392,100,000 reported in September.

AUTOMOBILES

Passenger car production in January will hit 691,400 units, smashing all previous January marks and hitting the biggest monthly total since November, 1955, according to Ward's Automotive Reports. January car production will show an increase of 27 per cent over January, 1959.

RETAIL TRADE

Retail trade this week ran from 3 to 7 per cent higher than a year ago sparked by continued clearance sales and generally favorable shopping weather, Dun & Bradstreet reported. Best-sellers were winter apparel, furniture and TV sets. There was a slight rise in sales of new passenger cars with volume up "moderately" over the week last year.

SETS UP NETWORK

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — Delta Tank Manufacturing Co., Inc., wholly-owned subsidiary of General Gas Corp., has set up a 24-city network of oil field equipment sales offices and supply houses in nine oil and gas-producing states.

DOUBLE COMMON SHARES

TREXLORTOWN, Pa. (UPI)—Stockholders of Air Products, Inc. voted to increase authorized common shares to 3 million from 1,500,000. Leonard P. Poole, president, said the increase is needed "to give the flexibility we need when and if the opportunity presents itself for mergers or acquisitions." He denied any such actions are contemplated, however.

GETS NAVY CONTRACT

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (UPI)—Emerson Radio & Phonograph Corp. has received a Navy contract for about $8 million to engineer and manufacture airborne electronic countermeasures equipment. The company said it has been developing such systems at research laboratories in Silver Springs, Md., for two years.

Stock Mart In Sharp Slide Down

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market fell sharply today and closed with prices near their lows of the day in a burst of active trading.

Volume for the day was estimated at 2,800,000 shares compared with 2,630,000 Thursday.

Key stocks fell from fractions to 2 or 3 points. Wider losses occurred among more speculative issues.

Philadelphia & Reading stumbled 5 points lower on news that General Dynamics has decided against proceeding with that company on a joint program to develop chemical products from coal wastes.

General Time fell more than 4. Down about 2 were such stocks as Eastman Kodak, DuPont, Ampex, Brunswick-Balke, Zenith, Western Union and American Machine & Foundry.

American Motors, Union Carbide, Motorola and Collins Radio fell about 3 apiece.

A few stocks bucked the downtrend, either holding steady or making fractional gains. Among these was Republic Steel, Goodyear, Goodrich, United Aircraft, Raytheon, Consolidated Edison, Phelps Dodge, Homestake, Air Reduction, Southern Pacific and American Tobacco. Merck was up about a point.

U.S. government bonds declined.

Second Setback Of Week Noted On Hog Market

CHICAGO (AP) — The butcher hog market ran into its second setback of the week Friday, the first time since the first of the year that the higher trend has been twice interrupted in one week.

Prices were steady to mostly 25 cents lower despite a good shipper demand. With the setback generally on weights under 230 lbs. the top stopped at $14.00, off 35 cents from Thursday's peak.

Buyers paid $13.75-14.00 for a few sorted lots of 190-215 lb No. 1 and mixed 1-2 grades and $13.25-13.75 for other mixed kinds up to 230 lbs. Heavier weights were $12.25-13.50 and sows $10.50-11.75.

The supply of slaughter steers and heifers was too small for a market test. A few vealers sold up to $30.00 for good grade and utility bulls up to $21.00.

Wooled slaughter lambs grading good and choice topped at $20.75 in a steady sheep market and ewes at $8.00.

'Double Tax' System Here Is Protested

Southern Bell Telephone Co. is contemplating court action against "double taxation" here where property owners are paying both city and parish school taxes.

"It is my understanding that a suit may be filed," said company Monroe district manager, W. E. Whetstone.

Southern Bell, it was learned yesterday, paid taxes for both school systems under protest.

STATEMENT

Whetstone explained, "We either owe the city or the parish. It doesn't make any difference to us. We have paid both of them. We feel that we owe taxes for one of them, but not to both of them."

Southern Bell owns property in an area near the Park Lane Subdivision that was recently incorporated in the city.

By bringing the respective areas into the city, property owners who were already paying parish school taxes then were bound legally to pay city school taxes too.

"This is a legal matter that must be cleared up," Whetstone said. "We are not trying to be arbitrary."

Plans Studied To Synchronize Traffic Lights

City officials have taken under advisement a recommendation to synchronize Monroe's downtown traffic signal lights.

The recommendation, presented by Krouse - Hines Traffic Signal Co., called for a new system of lights, an effort to speed up traffic in downtown Monroe.

Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard, Major Jack Davis and representatives of the signal light company discussed a study yesterday conducted by the firm.

Studies showed that a synchronized system would help the flow of traffic in our downtown area," Howard said.

Present traffic lights in that area can not be synchronized, but must be timed individually.

A decision on the recommendation will be made following a study by city officials.

Fourth Class Parcel Post Rates Increase

Fourth class parcel post rates will be increased effective Monday, Feb. 1, according to West Monroe Postmaster Homer Roark.

Although rates will go up throughout the entire parcel post structure, there is no standard percentage of increase.

However, Roark gave some examples for illustration:

The rate for 2 lbs. to the local zone will increase from 20 cents to 24 cents.

The rate for 10 pounds to the Fifth zone will increase from $1.10 to $1.25.

For specific rates, Roark said, you should contact your local post office. Any packages mailed with insufficient postage will be delivered postage due, and the person receiving will pay the balance.

ARMY TO RESCE

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — The Air Force called on the Army to help get it off the ground at nearby Alden Lake.

A large Army helicopter was summoned to airlift an Air Force helicopter to its Duluth base after the smaller Air Force craft damaged a rotor blade and partially broke through the ice in a landing.

Asian Flu Hits Europe

LONDON (UPI)—An epidemic of Asian influenza Friday caused millions of Europeans to miss school and work but apparently did not have the deadly strength of previous winters' flu waves.

Six deaths were reported among the millions of cases. In 1957, 7,000 died of Asian influenza in France alone, and other countries had death tolls in the hundreds.

A Belgian health official said the current illnesses appeared to be caused by an Asian-type virus, but of a weaker variety than the one that struck in 1957 and 1958.

F. D. R.'S HEALTH

In 1918, Franklin D. Roosevelt, then assistant secretary of the navy, was returning to the United States from an inspection tour of the American fleet in European waters. Soon after embarking on the Leviathan he came down with the flu. The ship's physician remarked that it was better to pick up the flu bug in Brest than to be a victim of the infantile paralysis epidemic then raging in New York.

Roosevelt's reply, "Well, it's getting pretty late in life to catch a thing like that," was and still is a popular misconception concerning polio. The ship's physician also was in error as the influenza pandemic of 1918-19 killed more Americans than has polio in all the years since the Declaration of Independence.

I assume many persons, including Mrs. Roosevelt, were concerned because F. D. R.'s flu developed into pneumonia, with congestion in both lungs, cough, and nosebleed. When the Leviathan docked in New York, he was carried on a stretcher to a waiting ambulance that took him home.

The prophetic remark of the ship's physician was realized three years later when the 39 year old Roosevelt developed polio. His return to health and rehabilitation is well known and has served as an inspiration for thousands of polio victims.

President Roosevelt's health during the last 6 or 7 years of life is a controversial subject, being clouded by medical ethics and political issues. Releases to the press were shrouded in secrecy, in marked contrast to those given out by President Eisenhower during his illnesses. There were rumors galore in medical circles concerning Roosevelt's electrocardiogram, blood vessels, heart, and mental acuity. He had suffered a minor stroke in 1938 and showed obvious signs of fatigue and aging as he neared 60.

But he continued on, despite numerous colds, sinus infections, bronchitis, and perhaps a few vascular accidents. The fatal stroke occurred April 12, 1945, while he sat quietly in the living room of the little White House at Warm Springs, Ga.

HEEL SPUR

G. W. S. writes: Is operation the only cure for a spur on the heel?

REPLY

Cure — yes. But many sufferers obtain relief of pain via pads and better shoes.

BRUCELLOSIS

T. W. writes: How is undulant fever contracted?

REPLY

By handling meat or drinking milk contaminated by the Brucella organisms.

SKIN CANCER

N. K. writes: I have an irritated spot on the edge of my right ear which the doctor says is a basal cell growth. Is this a malignant condition?

REPLY

Yes, but the chances of cure are so good (90 per cent) there is no need for concern.

PROTEIN

L. C. writes: Does eating a lot of protein help bowel function?

REPLY

Vegetable proteins, such as cereals, help because they supply roughage and not because they contain protein. Carbohydrate foods, such as fruits and vegetables, do the same.

ABDOMINAL DISTRESS

P.M.P writes: Can food allergies cause colitis?

REPLY

Intestinal allergies can cause severe colicky pain that mimics the discomfort of spastic colitis. The two conditions may be difficult to tell apart.

CRYING, GURGLING, AND BABBLING

Dr. M. M. Lewis in his book, "How Children Learn to Speak" (Basic Books, Inc., New York) regards the first breath of the newborn as the beginning f communication with those about him. The expelled air is responsible for the cry that lets everyone know that a live baby has arrived.

Later, crying is a signal that Junior is uncomfortable, wet, or hungry. The sounds change from a-a-a to wa-wa-wa within the first few weeks, demonstrating the early use of lips and other parts of the vocal organs. Gurgling (ga-ga) enters the picture to denote comfort.

The next step is ma-ma; mothers should not be misled into believing the tyke is calling them. Ma-ma is part of the international baby language and forms the child's first discomfort or comfort noises. This changes as the meaning of the word becomes clear to him, particularly when mother constantly names herself — "Here comes Mama."

Babbling, according to Dr. Lewis, is as necessary to developing speech skills as moving the arms and legs is to physical skills. From here on imitation plays an important role in the child's ability to talk. Progress depends upon the response of those around him. The toddler has an incentive to learn words when the adults respond in a helpful way while he is grasping for the right words to use. Utterance lags behind comprehension.

Perfect imitation is not achieved for some time but it progresses if the parents continue to use the correct word whenever necessary. The youngster may refer to his cart or teddy bear as gaga but he'll improve gradually if thee mother goes along with him, yet repeats the proper word of an object each time. If she also refers to the cart as a gaga, the baby will follow suit. This is the main reason why baby talk by adults is taboo.

The six fundamental consonants are m, n, p, b, t, and d. This may explain why mama, papa, mum, baba, tata, and dada are early words meaning mother, nurse, himself, or good-by. Many tots hang on to the consonants that they used early, saying peak for speak and wide for ride.

INCUBATION PERIOD

Mrs. D. C. writes: A child was exposed to measles and didn't catch it within three weeks but did catch it in four to five weeks. Do you think the specific exposure mentioned was to blame?

REPLY

The incubation period of measles averages 10 days. A measles victim must have been exposed somewhere along the line but it is doubtful if an exposure that occurred four to five weeks previously would be responsible.

NERVOUS STAIN

Mrs. H. F. writes: How can a person decide whether he is suffering from anxiety and nervous tension?

REPLY

In these disorders, the mind is uneasy about some personal problem. The symptoms may be subjective — that is, perceived only by the individual — or they may be evident as jitteriness, nervousness, or muscular stiffness.

MURMUR AND DANCING

Mrs. R. writes: Is it safe for a 17 year old girl with a functional heart murmur to take ballet and tap dancing at school?

REPY

Yes, and the sooner the better. Functional murmurs are innocent and represent adventitious sounds coming from a healthy heart.

Faubus Plans Talk As Demo, Not Candidate

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Friday that when he goes to Los Angeles for an April 1 speech he will do so "as a Democrat and not as a candidate for president."

But he added that he also was going "as a citizen free to speak my mind."

His news conference comment followed disclosure that William P. Gale, a retired Army colonel and now a Hollywood securities dealer, had started a campaign to boost Faubus for the presidency.

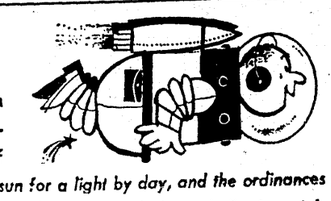
Faubus wouldn't comment on whether he would be receptive to urging that he try for the Democratic nomination at the national party convention at Los Angeles in July.

"I don't think I will even talk about things like that because I don't think there is any likelihood of any such thing happening," Faubus said.

FALSE ALARM

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Fourth grade teacher Mary Wright got sly smirks from her pupils after mysterious fumes caused the evacuation of 1,500 children. The fumes came from an overheated pan in which she was boiling water to clean art equipment.

OUTER SPACE



seems to intrigue men into costly explorations. "The Lord of hosts . . . giveth the sun for a light by day, and the ordinances of the moon and of the stars for a light by night." Jeremiah 31:35

How much more profitable for men to be concerned about their relationship to God and eternal life.
